DON'T FORGET YOUR WRAP WHEN YOU GO BATHING

WHEN you dress up in your fancy bathing suit, this summer, and are all ready to go out to the beach—to watch the waves—don't forget your wrap.

For it will be a breach of beach fashion to go without one this year.

In fact the wrap is considered quite as necessary as the bathing suit itself.

But don't shrink from getting it wet. Because every beach wrap is waterproof. They come in silks—checked, striped and in various figured materials—and they're cut on the line of the street wrap. Some of them, as shown in the center above, conform in design with the bathing suit. But that isn't essential.

What is important is that it be worn on the way to the beach. Else you're not in fashion.

REPORTS HEARD
BY FEDERATED
WOMEN'S CLUBS

Echoes of State Convention at Steubenville Feature Meeting Held Here at Hotel Argonne Saturday—Committee Chairmen Named

PROBABLY no city in Ohio can boast of a more active Federation of Women's clubs than Lima. Its work covers all subjects of interest and legislation and establishes an influence which is felt by every woman of the membership.

At the meeting of the federation Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Argonne, well-prepared reports of the state federation of Women's clubs held during the week of May 21st were given by Lima delegates. Mrs. E. B. Taylor presided at the meeting, which was attended by more than half a hundred women of the city and surrounding towns.

Mrs. Taylor continued with the naming of the different committee chairmen and members for the coming year, a majority of the women having been designated at the federation meeting at the Public Library six weeks ago. A general discussion followed as to the possibility of holding a "Fall Festival" as a means of obtaining funds. Plans were also discussed for a city's lecture course, to be sponsored by the Lima federation. The assemblage heard the reports of Mrs. John Roby, Mrs. Beecher Moke, Dr. Josephine Peirce and Mrs. E. B. Taylor, all of whom attended the state conference.

Mrs. Roby, state chairman of the music committee, gave a report of the meetings of her division. A contest is now open to any composer in the state for an official Ohio federation song. Entries are to be sent to Mrs. Roby and the song will be selected at the Federation meeting in Toledo next year. Lima women will remember Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, national chairman of music division, who has asked each state in the country to give $50 to help furnish a music alcove in the national federation home in Washington, Mrs. Roby reported. She also spoke of the contribution the state music committee has been asked to make to the Peterboro colony, established by MacDowell in New Hampshire where artists and composers may find an atmosphere of quietude and seclusion.

Mrs. Roby brings the word that Mrs. R. O. Woods and Miss Clarence Klinger, soloists, who appeared on the program at the state meet, were received with a great deal of praise.

Mrs. Moke, lately retired president of the federation, in the appointed chairman of the public welfare department of the city and spoke at Saturday's meeting of the work being done by the state in that department. She told of the address of Mrs. Cora C. Conley, state superintendent of charity given at a luncheon meeting on "Our Responsibility in Regard to Our State Institutions." Mrs. Moke also spoke of the work of the Americanization department of the state.

Mrs. Taylor asked Dr. Josephine Peirce, recording secretary of the state federation, to present to the meeting the resolutions adopted by the women at Steubenville. Included in these are resolutions concerning world peace, uniform marriage and divorce laws, law enforcement establishment of fournalism classes in the country's colleges, creation of funds for Americanization work, Judge Allen's resolution on "out-lawing war" and re-establishment of social service work in the state.

Mrs. Taylor gave a comprehensive review of the entire program of the week. She spoke in detail of reports given by the different committee chairmen of the state, other than the reports given by the other, Lima women.

The following women were named by the president to serve on the various committees: Americanization, Mrs. W. E. Givson, chairman; Mrs. Jacob Pifer, Mrs. Wallace King, Mrs. Jennie Ticker, Miss Drouilla Kelly and Miss Peirce, chairmen of division of general education, Mrs. H. M. Kemerer, chairman, Mrs. William E. Bayly, Mrs. J. T. Laughlin, Mrs. J. C. Kelly and Mrs. G. Wendler, Mrs. William Daniels, chairman of the division of fine arts.

Regular Army Joins In Revolt Against the Rulers At Sofia

FRONTIERS CLOSED

Military In Control of Situation And New Ministry Is Formed

LONDON. — (United Press.) — The Bulgarian peasant government has been overthrown by a military coup of reserve officers supported by the active army, and all members of the Stamboulsky cabinet arrested, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Sofia.

A new cabinet has been formed. Professor Zankoff heads the new ministry, according to the Exchange, occupying the posts of prime minister, secretary for war and foreign affairs. Other members of the cabinet are:

General Rousseff, interior; Professor Moloff, education and agriculture; Dr. Smyloff, justice; Theodoroff, finance; Boboshewsky, commerce; Kazassoff, railways; Stoencheff, public works.

Military, headed by ex-officers and regulars control the situation in Sofia, according to the Exchange, which says everything is quiet and order everywhere maintained.

LONG THREATENED
The government, headed by Premier Stamboulsky, which appears from Sofia dispatches to have finally met the fate that long threatened it, ended with occasional cabinet changes since October, 1919. It was usually as well as by name a "peasant government" which came into being as a result of resentment among the peasant classes against King Ferdinand's war-time policy, which let Bulgaria into a disastrous situation on the side of the central powers.

For three years, despite reactionary tendencies that cropped up only to be sternly repressed, the Stamboulsky government maintained a firm hand on Bulgaria. Members of former ministries were kept in jail and otherwise mistreated so that conservative resentment against the government finally developed serious proportions. Peasants at one time threatened to march on Sofia, and a former administrator from a train while the latter were that only in night attire and armed with shotguns. Such excesses as this finally aroused ex-officers of the middle class as well as aristocrats to open rebellion which apparently has culminated in Saturday's coup.

MINISTERS CAPTURED
BUCHAREST. — (United Press.) — A bloodless coup d'etat was effected at Sofia Saturday, the Bulgarian government of Premier Stamboulsky was overthrown and a new ministry with Professor Zankoff at its head established.

Early Saturday morning, soldiers, under the leadership of ex-officers and aided by politicians of the party opposed to the peasant government, entered parliament buildings and arrested all ministers and deputies who could find. Others surrounded houses of ministers throughout Sofia and captured the entire government.

Frontiers were closed and the military controlled the situation immediately following the revolt, but there was no armed resistance and late Saturday night, everything was tranquil.

Clarence S. Young, 46, of 1057 W. Springfield, suffered severe injuries Saturday, when he was struck by a B. & O. Railroad train at a grade crossing near the Lima Locks and Works.

Young suffered a fractured shoulder and severe body bruises. He was unconscious when removed to City hospital.

Young later recovered consciousness and physicians at the hospital say he will recover. His condition was much improved Saturday night, according to reports.

Rail Traffic
Paralyzed By Caterpillars

Crops Destroyed and Phone Lines Pulled Down by Pests In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. — (United Press.) — Telephone and telegraph communication in northwestern Oregon was paralyzed Saturday night as the caterpillar plague continued to spread. Billions of the pests were swarming over the countryside, ousting families from their homes, stalling trains and destroying crops. Electric light and telephone wires were reported to be falling in increasing number under the tremendous weight as the worms climbed poles and massed themselves along the wires.

In the Yakima valley, all lines of communication except one were down. Rail traffic in the valley also was almost at a standstill because the engines could not gain traction on the slimy rails. The famous Willamette Valley, it is feared, will be the next section to be laid waste. The worms were heading toward the valley Saturday evening, leaving the ground behind them bare.

Wages Raised By
Two Railroads

CHICAGO. — (United Press.) — Wage increases in maintenance of way employes were granted by two more railroads Saturday.

A. F. Stout, vice-president of the Maintenance of Way Shop Laborers' Brotherhood, announced the Chicago and Northwestern had advanced pay to 15,000 men one to six cents an hour.

The Pennsylvania system notified the railway labor board it had advanced pay to 112,551 employes. The increases are effective as of May 1 and April 15. Maintenance and shop employes, warehouse, storehouse and elevator men, stationary engineers are affected. The advance will cost the road about $8,579,664 annually.

Veteran Given
Death Sentence

CHICAGO. — (United Press.) — John Meisner, 27, wounded veteran, was sentenced to hang October 19, for the murder of Joseph Schlesinger, taxi driver, by Judge Philip Sullivan Saturday.

Meisner is the eighth condemned man awaiting death in "murderers' row" of the Cook-co jail.

Judge Sullivan, who sentenced him, is himself an overseas veteran. The prisoner, one leg missing as the result of battlefield wounds, balanced himself with a cane and heard the sentence without flinching. His aged mother and pretty sister became hysterical.

Gates Locked
Against Booze

WASHINGTON. — (United Press.) — America Saturday night locked its sea gates against booze.

No ship which puts to sea after midnight Saturday night may legally bring beverage liquor across the imaginary line which marks the three-mile zone of American territorial waters. At that hour the new regulations for the carrying out effect of the supreme courts drastic interpretation of the dry law, becomes operative.

Despite protests from eight maritime nations which see in the new rules an unheard of attempt by the United States government to apply its domestic jurisdiction, government officials predicted inauguration of the new policy would be attended with little difficulty.

WETS ORGANIZING FOR OHIO DRIVE

Anti-Prohibition Bodies in Every City, Town Planned

COLUMBUS. (United Press.) — Spurred on by the success of the prohibition enforcement repulse in New York and the approval given a similar measure by the Wisconsin legislature, "Wets" in Washington Saturday announced tentative plans for an intensive drive against prohibition in Ohio.

Officials of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment hope to shift Ohio, to the "wet" column at the 1924 elections.

Anti-prohibition organizations will be formed in every city in the state, most of the small towns and in many of the counties.

The organization used last fall will be expanded and developed so that the association will rival the Anti-Saloon League in the thoroughness of its organization, officials hope.

State headquarters will be located at Columbus under an executive secretary to be named later, Colonel F. W. Marcollin of Cleveland, former executive secretary, has resigned.

Benedict Crowell, of Cleveland, former assistant secretary of war, is chairman of the state committee. Colonel Hayden Ames of Cleveland is treasurer of the Ohio organization and is now the acting executive secretary. Amos M. Barron, of Cleveland, is chairman of the finance committee for Ohio.

Ohioans are being enrolled every day, it is said, and new organizations are being created weekly. A new "local" was recently created in Cincinnati, making two in that city. Another was established in Perry-co.

Field agents will be sent throughout the state to organize branches while anti-prohibition literature will be distributed from Washington.

At Cincinnati former State Senator Edward M. Thompson, Charles W. Short, Charles B. Wilby and Douglas Resor are among the members taking an active part in furthering the movement there. R. R. Dunlop and Fred M. Ellis are active in Columbus.

GOVERNOR AL SMITH IS TO VISIT FRENCH LICK

INDIANAPOLIS. — The state of vice-presidential timber and politicians who start to learn the game before they are hardly out of the cradle, is speculating on the significance on the meeting next week at French Lick of Governor Al Smith of New York, and Tom Taggart, Hoosier political boss, and former United States senator.

Governor Smith, mentioned as a strong possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination, will arrive next Wednesday at the resort owned by Taggart. At Taggart's headquarters, it was stated that Governor Smith is coming to Indiana for a "rest."

Politicians throughout the state, however, recall that other likely candidates, have gone to French Lick in the past "for a rest" and while resting cooked up plans which later dominated the action of national conventions of the Democratic party.

Restoration of Central High school of this city to the list of accredited schools was assured Saturday when a telegram was received by Superintendent J. E. Collins from H. M. Gage, secretary of the North-Central association, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"Central high school by vote of the executive committee is hereby restored to its place on the accredited list of secondary schools of the North-Central association," the telegram reads.

This action authorizes the admission of 1923 graduates and those of the future of Central to any college of the association within the 17 North-Central states, without disqualifications of the Lima school standing that may be accorded any city high school in the middle west.

The assurance represents the combined judgment of the highest officials of the association that the disqualifications of the Lima school was unwarranted, it is pointed out. Action was taken upon the recommendation of the Ohio representatives of the association after an examination of the official records, as reported of the association on the two points under criticism.

TECHNICALLY DISCLOSED
First criticism was based on a letter of the Ohio representative of the association to the school under date of March 26, 1923, was that the high school report submitted in November, 1922, failed to show that one of the instructors had the required eleven hours in educational or professional credits. Copies of this instructor's certified college credits were forwarded to the association representative, with the request that he approved them immediately by wire.

He declared that the credits more than covered the requirements, especially since it was shown that the instructor was a four-year A. B. graduate of one of the colleges of the association and had taught two years in a North Central accredited school before coming to Central high here. This was held to remove the first disqualification.

Second criticism was based on a warning of last year under the association rule known as Standard 8, pertaining to teacher-student ratio. The rule in full reads as follows, as stated in the annual report of the association:

"No school whose records show an excessive number of pupils per teacher, based on average attendance, shall be accredited. The association recommends 25 for a maximum. In general, no teacher of academic subjects should be assigned more than 150 student-hours of class room instruction per day, organized in not to exceed six classes per day."

In the report sent to the association on which the warning was issued, the total enrollment of 882 was used, instead of the average attendance of 547, school officials said, with further subtraction for such pupils as were carrying part work in the eighth grade of the junior high school.

When he compared the association report with the official high school monthly and other reports for that school year, it is declared that the Ohio representative was of the opinion that the second criticism was also unwarranted. After going over the records with other members of the Ohio committee, it is stated he volunteered to submit their report to the association, asking that both points of criticism be rescinded and that Central high be returned to the regular list.

STUDENT AVERAGE
Checking up also disclosed, it is declared, it was shown that Central high teachers averaged for the year only 121 students to their classes daily, whereas the rule is said to permit up to 150, and that Central teachers averaged less than five classes per day, while the association permits six.

According to school officials, the state department gave assurance from the beginning that technicalities did not impair Central's standing in the Ohio association, or the admission of Central graduates to Ohio colleges. Michigan colleges including Ann Arbor, remained open also to Central graduates under the plan of reciprocity.

SLAIN GIRL VICTIM OF LOVE TANGLE

Jealousy Believed Motive Behind Murder at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN. (United Press.) — A ruling passion to become "American" betrayed Helene Drachman, pretty Danish sales girl, into the hands of her slayer, Harvey Burgess, county prosecutor, declared Saturday night, following a conference with Esther J. Hamilton, Helene's companion.

The costly pearl grey suit and necklace which draped Miss Drachman's svelte body when it was taken from beneath a culvert near here Friday was the girl's latest attempt, it was learned, to conform to this country's ideal in dress.

Burgess is convinced, he declared, that Miss Drachman's attractive costumes led her into a "love tangle" of which she was the victim.

Investigators Saturday night proved the theory that the stiletto wounds in the breast of the "girl in grey" resulted from an attack by a woman, her mind temporarily deranged by jealousy.

One of three women held at police headquarters has admitted, it was learned, that her husband was attracted to Miss Drachman and that she had remonstrated with him for his alleged relations with the girl.

The woman theory, authorities pointed out, is supported by the condition of Miss Drachman's body, which gave mute testimony that her last struggle had been with a person of approximately her own strength. The anonymous note which told police where the body lay is the work of a woman haunted by the knowledge of her victim's body decomposing in its watery crypt, authorities said.

How Miss Drachman was lured to the place where she was slain which information police expected to learn late Saturday from a youth at Girard, understood to have danced with the girl the night she disappeared from the Youngstown Y. V. C. A., was not available. The young man could not be located.

It is known only that she left her room about 8:30 in answer to a telephone call on the night of May 31—a few months after she came to America to become, as she often said, "a real American girl."

Two men, a taxi driver and a chauffeur, both friends of Miss Drachman, but their stories, according to Prosecutor Burgess, threw no new light on the mystery.

The taxi driver had received a letter threatening him and Miss Drachman with death if they were seen again together and experts said the handwriting was identical with that of the anonymous note to police. This, Burgess said, may be used in support of the theory of either a man or a woman slayer, but it does not go far toward helping determine the murderer's identity.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — (United Press.) — Two walls of water totaling 17 feet were sweeping down the south Canadian river thru western Oklahoma Saturday night.

Where to Buy a Good Piano for Less Money

Did you know that the entire remaining stock of the Maus Piano Company has been taken over by the Page Organ Company? All the pianos, player pianos, grand pianos, reproducing pianos and phonographs are now being disposed of at record smashing low prices.

No attempt is being made by the Page Organ Company to continue the sale of pianos, as the company's object in the future will be to manufacture high grade pipe organs. Hence, the stock of the Maus Piano Company is useless to the new organization and must be disposed of at once.

This means that everyone who can use a high grade piano has the opportunity to get one at an unheard of low price. There are also other articles to be sold at sacrifice prices, such as odd stock, fixtures, etc.

The reason for selling this good merchandise at such low prices is that the Page Organ Company wishes to convert everything not needed in the new business into cash, thus doing away with the necessity of storage and taking up valuable floor space.

If you are interested come in at once as we cannot afford to hold this merchandise on our floors very long.

LIMA BOY SCOUTS WILL MARK STALL ROAD TRAIL

Boy Scouts of Lima are to mark the Muncie-Lima-Fremont trail during the coming week, James I. Heffner, manager of the Lima Automobile club, announced Saturday.

The Scouts will leave Lima and work toward the Indiana line, traveling in a flivver. Telephone pole along the way are to be marked with the monogram of the road. After marking the road south, the scouts will turn their attention to the section of the highway toward Fremont. Because of the saving in mileage, the Muncie-Lima-Fremont way is becoming a much travelled route, Heffner states.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: DON'T you please tell me of something which will really cure blackheads? I have tried everything I can think of, but it doesn't do a bit of good. I'm simply discouraged for my face is covered with them.

M. D. ETERNAL vigilance is the best remedy for blackheads. With warm water, soap and a complexion brush, with cleansing cream or whatever method seems best suited to your skin, keep it thoroughly clean, so that dust and grime do not have time to become embedded in the pores. And when the pores are clear apply witch hazel or some other safe astringent to contract them. It probably will take months of this or any treatment to get rid of these blemishes.

An oily skin favors the formation of blackheads. Perhaps your diet needs attention. Too much fat-producing food, which includes sweets, starches and fats, is likely to clog the pores of the skin with an oily secretion in which dust particles lodge.

If the above means fail, consult a physician who is a skin specialist.

Dear Miss Smart: I am 15 years old. My greatest desire is, and always has been, to have bobbed hair. My mother does not care if I have it cut, but my father thinks it is nothing but a bad and he does not approve of it. He thinks girls who have their hair bobbed are not nice, but some of the nicest girls I know have bobbed hair. I love my father very much, but I believe I will go against his wishes in this. I want my hair cut short, not for style, but for the convenience of it and for the time it will save. Do you think I should have it cut? Even last summer I wanted to have it cut, but decided to wait a while and see if my father would not give his consent.

RUTH. Not unless you can win your father's as well as your mother's approval would I advise having your hair bobbed. While it is true that your father is mistaken in thinking that really nice girls do not adopt this style, yet you should respect his wishes.

A father usually idealizes his daughter and is hurt and disappointed if she fails to measure up to the standard he has set for her. It just happens that your father does not feel that bobbed hair does not measure up to the ideal he has formed for you.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a business girl and live in a boarding house, as my home is away from Lima. I am often invited to the homes of my girl friends and my young married friends to meals. It isn't very pleasant to invite them to my boarding place, for meals here I don't make very much and can't afford to entertain at restaurants very often. And, of course, I don't like to accept their invitations without making some return. What would you suggest?

H. Your friends understand the situation and probably do not expect you to return their hospitality in kind. But there are many ways in which you can show your appreciation and make some return. Occasionally you might take your hostess a box of favorite candy, a phonograph record or a book or magazine which you think she would like. Or, you might save for the purpose and send her a pretty Christmas or birthday gift.

SCOUT COMMITTEE MEETS TO DETERMINE CONTESTS FOR CULVER SCHOLARSHIP

Members of the Camp and Scout Craft committee will meet Monday evening at 7:30 at Scout headquarters to outline contest to determine the winner of the Culver school scholarship, C. L. Conrad stated Saturday.

H. W. L. Kidder is chairman of the committee. Other members are: W. A. Plann, W. A. Thomas, Bennie Rosenbaum, L. J. Stemmans, Captain W. B. Wilcox, and Judge Emmett Jackson.

Members of the life saving committee will meet Monday to elect a treasurer and to discuss further plans of operation, Conrad said. It is probable that the session will be a luncheon meeting.

R. W. Ackley, scout master from Cincinnati, is the latest addition to the local force of scout leaders. He has located in Lima and will devote time to the local scouts, it was announced.

BOOZE PROBLEMS IN ONTARIO

Altho Province is Dry Legally
Bootleggers Flourish

WILL ENFORCE DRY LAW

Question Raised as to Which Party in Canada is Wet

WINDSOR, Ont. (Special).—On June 25, the province of Ontario will hold an election which may resolve itself into a test of strength between wets and dries.

It must not be supposed that in these pre-election days the uppermost topic is liquor. That isn't true. It is only in the undercurrent of the political river that the subject of booze is felt by an observer.

The prohibition problem of Canada—and it is a real one—is one which politicians dislike to discuss. Under the British North American Act, or Imperial Statute, the right to prohibit the importation and manufacture of booze is vested in the Dominion. Control of the actual sale of whisky, wine, etc., is left to the provinces, which correspond to our states.

IS DRY LEGALLY. But the Dominion, not wishing to follow the example of the Washington government, delegated all its powers in the regulation of the liquor traffic to the several provinces. In other words, the national government adopted a "hands off" policy.

Thus, having left the matter to the province of Ontario, the latter proceeded to enact laws so dry a man can't own, buy, or sell or drink intoxicating liquor.

Ontario is bone-dry—legally. Illegally it is confronted with the same curse prohibition brought to this country, namely, the bootlegger.

And now, paradoxically, say those proponents of a law which would allow sale of liquor under government supervision in government shops, the time has come to make a province which is legally dry, dry in fact, by passing a law which would permit the sale of liquor!

On such a platform Frank W. Wilson, of the Conservative party, is running for the Windsor seat in the Ontario legislature.

Wilson says that about 20 other men, in various parties, hold the same platform as he. Viewed from that light he may be considered a spokesman for a large group in the Dominion.

WILSON IS DRY. "Are you wet or dry?" the writer asked Wilson.

"I am dry," he replied. "I am for temperance, and under existing conditions, regardless of the actual letter of the law, this temperance does not exist."

"At the present time the worse feature of the liquor question exists with no control. We want a law the people will be behind, one which they will help prosecute."

"I have never known of any citizens volunteering to help in the prosecution of a liquor case. Neither have I heard of a prominent man being convicted. The only bar to having liquor is money. You can have it in accordance with your means. It is a farce to say it is bone-dry."

There are three major parties in Ontario—the Conservative, the Liberals, and the United Farmers. Each professed to be "dry."

THE REAL ISSUE. The impression seems to have been gained in the States that the Conservative party is the wet party. That is wrong. It was the Conservative party which put through the Ontario Temperance Act.

But this differentiates the three. The Farmers party, now in control, comes out flat-footedly as a dry referendum shows, that there is a preponderance of opinion for a modification of liquor laws, such changes will be made.

But not before, even though "wet" candidates are elected. It should be pointed out that nearly all of Canada is dry now. Only two provinces—Quebec and British Columbia—are wet.

And while Ontario wets want to force an issue in this campaign without openly declaring themselves, the real issue is the so-called "farm" government, now in control. Conservatives and Liberals are harping on the excessive debts which an "inexperienced" government has piled up. This charge is denied by the farmers.

ST. GERARD'S WILL HOLD GRADUATING EXERCISES

TRAFFIC BUREAU WILL BE IN OPERATION SOON

Opening of the Board of Commerce traffic bureau will occur Tuesday or Wednesday, J. E. Morton, manager, stated Saturday.

S. D. Hutchins, of the Piqua Shipper's association, will supervise operation of the bureau and a manager will be appointed soon, it was said.

All the available information on tariff regulations and traffic information will be placed on file at the bureau and will be at the disposal of patrons of the new department.

"Y" BOYS WILL CAMP SOON

25 Youths to Spend Two Weeks
In Michigan Resort

WILL AWARD HONOR MEDAL

Best All Around Camper To Be Named by Election

Approximately 25 boys are anxiously awaiting the opening of the Y. M. C. A. boy's summer camp at Hemlock, Michigan, R. T. Veal, boys' director of the local "Y", stated Saturday.

The quota of Lima boys to camp Potawatami is rapidly filling, Veal said. The Lima delegation will leave for camp June 29. The overland trip to Ft. Wayne will be made by auto on that date and the following day the local campers will entrain for the Michigan resort.

Camp Potawatami, which will be attended by 45 Ft. Wayne boys at the same time, will be under the supervision of Veal. I. G. Maxwell, physical director of the local "Y", will be physical director of the camp.

P. A. Stevens, of Ft. Wayne "Y" staff, will be associate director and Frank Root, also of the Ft. Wayne staff, will have charge of camp activities.

IN CAMP TWO WEEKS

The Lima boys will remain two weeks in camp. It is the hope of Veal and associates that local youths will have a camp of their own next year.

An innovation in camping activities comes this year in the announcement that R. G. Banta, Lima, is to award a camp life or medal to the boy who shows the best all around camping qualifications and spirit.

The winner of the medal, who will be elected by the boys at the final camp fire, must be not only an expert camper from the technical standpoint, but must also be an active participant in all camp affairs.

It is the intention of Banta to make the medal award an annual event.

Another feature of the camp this summer will be the formation of a Camp Honor society. Veal said. Composing this honor organization each year will be six of the best all around campers who will be elected by the boys. Six members of the society will be elected each year.

Complete schedule of all local activities of Y. M. C. A. boys is being outlined by Veal, he announced Saturday. The schedule will contain in minute detail the activities for every day up to September 1. With the aid of the schedule, boys will be able to arrange their own affairs and take the greatest possible advantage of the summer program.

Veal said.

AT HAMILTON FARM

An overnight camp will be started on the T. R. Hamilton farm northwest of Lima, Veal announced. Permission has been granted to boy members of the department to leave two or three days at any time the youths may desire.

Members of the Cadet and Senior departments of the Boy's division will participate in a bicycling tour Saturday. The trip will begin at 9

a. m. from "is "Y." Destination has not been decided.

In the absence of R. T. Veal at the summer camp during the latter part of June, hiking and bicycle trips will be in charge of Robert King. Clarence Johns will have charge of building activities.

CLOSE SATURDAYS
NORWALK, OHIO.—Only six courthouses in Ohio are kept open on Saturday afternoons, according to word received here by county officials who have decided to close the Huron-co courthouse on Saturday afternoon.

TOUGHEN FOR CHOCKS
PARIS.—Paris police are going to be sure of finger prints. To study them better, the department has installed an apparatus which magnifies them ten times before projecting them on a table.

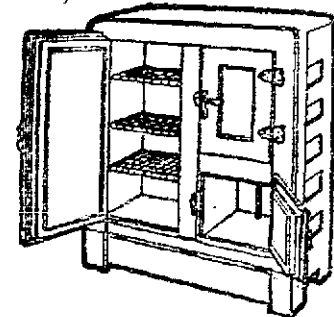

Home Outfits for Newlyweds

Once upon a time there was a tiny maid who dreamed dreams and built air-castles. And the dreams were always of a Prince Charming, and the air-castle was always a wonderful big home beautifully furnished. But the little girl is a big girl now, and this June will find her in her air-castle with the wonderful Prince Charming. The Prince Charming is just "a rising young salesman," and the air-castle is only a tiny four-room bungalow or apartment. But the one dream she can realize is that of the beautiful furnishings!

The wise young couple always buys good furniture. For it is far better to buy only a few pieces, and those good and beautiful, than to load the home down with cheap, ugly furniture that will not last and of which they will tire even before it wears out. On the other hand, artistic furniture is a permanent investment in beauty, and when wisely bought, the first furniture may well be the permanent furniture for the home.

The capable suggestions of our ever-courteous salesmen, our easy payment plans, and the wide selection of furnishings makes our store the ideal place to buy furniture for the new home.

JURY FINDS OTIS MOREY GUILTY

Farmer Convicted of Incest, Protests Innocence.

DENOUNCES HIS ACCUSERS

Sentence to Be Passed This Week By Judge Becker

Protesting that he is innocent of a charge of incest, upon which he was found guilty by a jury in common pleas court Saturday, Otis Morey, 38, Spencerville farmer, was led back to the county jail by deputies.

Morey vented his ire on members of the jury; his sisters, who had testified for the state, and especially did he hurl anathemas and maledictions upon Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott and the detectives who were active in his arrest and conviction.

Morey was found guilty by a jury which tried his case after more than 10 hours deliberation. One member of the jury held out for acquittal until near the end.

The other 11 members of the body were prepared to find the defendant guilty, almost from the first ballot. It is stated. Nearly two dozen ballots were taken before the jury was in unison.

VERDICT STUNS MOREY

As the words that sealed his fate were read by John T. Cotner, clerk of the court, Morey clenched his fists, as if in great passion and seemed on the verge of hurling himself at the throats of the jurors. His face was the picture of rage and the cords in his neck swelled.

Bailiffs seated nearby prepared for action should the prisoner have attempted violence.

Morey will be sentenced by Judge Becker, early this week. Three days are allowed by law for filing a motion for new trial. The penalty for the crime is a term of from one to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

History of the case is brief and tragic. Six years ago, following the death of his father, a highly-respected citizen and lifelong school teacher of Spencerville, Otis Morey returned from wanderings in the west and took up his residence with his sister, Opal Morey, then a girl of 19, on the old home place, two miles east of Spencerville.

CONFESSED KIDNAP

Nearly a year ago, he contrived her downfall, according to his confession. In October she disappeared from the community. No word of her fate leaked out until February, when Mrs. Frankie Eley, an elder sister, received a message intended for Morey. It told of Opal's death in the Toledo asylum. A child born to her in a maternity home died soon after birth. Both are buried in the Spencerville cemetery.

Suspicion fell upon Morey and when Roy Bowersock, and Willis Kipper, detectives, arrested him and brought him to Lima, he confessed the crime. Later he repudiated the confession and pleaded not guilty to an indictment returned by the grand jury.

SUSPECTS IN CHICAGO MURDER EXONERATED

CHICAGO—Identity of the girl bandit with "blue eyes and a smile" who killed Richard C. Tiesner Tuesday night during a robbery, was declared likely to become an "unsolved mystery" by police Saturday night.

Fifty or more women have been exhibited before Mrs. Tesmer, the widow, and she failed to identify any of them. She reiterated that she would know the "right one" by a peculiar smile and blue eyes impressed upon her mind as she saw her husband shot down.

The last three suspected women answering the general description of "blue eyes and a peculiar smile" were exonerated Saturday. Mrs. Tesmer failed to identify two and the other known as "the female Tommy O'Connor" (gunman) proved an alibi.

BROKERAGE FAILURES ARE INVESTIGATED

NEW YORK—Investigations are being conducted by federal state and municipal authorities to determine whether the series of brokerage firm failures of the past year, climaxed by the collapse of three curb houses since June 1, were due to irregular operations.

Jones and Baker, biggest of the curb brokers, collapsed last week involving approximately $7,000,000. Friday L. L. Winkelman and Company, third largest curb house, was forced into receivership. While liabilities were estimated at $1,750,000, the amount involved is said to be near $10,000,000.

Today S. M. Wolfe and Company, went into receivership. Liabilities were estimated all the way from $50,000, to $500,000.

GIRL CONSTABLE MAY BE REALITY

Miss Gertrude Miller to File As Democratic Candidate

How would it seem to be pinched by a woman constable?

Some residents of Ottawa-up may enjoy this novel experience after January 1, 1934, if Miss Gertrude Miller, candidate for constable on the Democratic ticket is nominated and elected this fall.

Miss Miller created a sensation when she announced for the office. No other woman in Ohio, so far as is known, has ever aspired to be elected court constable. Her petition is to be filed with the board of elections during the coming week. She promises to be a strong contented in the primary race ending August 14.

For two years past Miss Miller has been stenographer in the office of Justice of Peace Ernest Rotkins. She determined to run for constable after reading of the exploits of women sheriffs in the far west.

She is an expert horsewoman, is fond of dancing, swimming and fishing. Miss Miller, although tipping the beam at only 101 pounds, expresses confidence in her ability to arrest the most desperate law violators.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS ARE PLANNING TO ATTEND IDEAL SUMMER CAMPS

With the arrival of summer weather members of the Y. W. C. A. have turned their thoughts to camp and many will leave soon to attend either of the two resorts provided by the "Y. W."

Camp Yarnelle, situated directly across the lake from Winona assembly grounds, one and one-half miles from Warsaw, Ind., amid beautiful surroundings, is open to the Girl Reserves, which includes the high school clubs. Camp will be conducted August 6-20 under the supervision of trained leadership and the chaperonage of Miss Margarette Creamer, girl work secretary of the local association.

A vacation cottage at Orchard Island is maintained for the industrial girls and affords ideal summer recreation for the business girls. Those who like companionship of congenial friends, joys of the outdoors, swimming, hikes and camp fires at night are urged to take their vacation in July between the 14th and 28th and attend the camp. Miss Grace Reynolds, industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will be supervisor.

Girls are asked to bring midday blouses, bathing shoes, bathing suits, tennis racket, Bible and musical instruments. There will be no room for unnecessary clothing or luggage. Further information concerning the camps will be provided at the Y. W. C. A.

PLAN FOR PARK EXTENSION

Commissioner F. E. Harman Outlines Faurot Enlargement

ISSUE LONG TERM BONDS

Mayor Cunningham Favors Idea As Future Civic Project

Plans, providing for the issuance of $100,000 in long term bonds, whereby Faurot park may be extended to include territory south to the Erie railroad tracks and east to comprise Hoover park and lake, thence east along Kibby-st to Hein-diest and north to the Ottawa river, were announced Saturday by Park Commissioner Frank Harman as a future project of the park commission.

Such an increase in the territory of Faurot park together with adequate improvement will provide for Lima a pleasure resort not excelled in any city of the country, Harman declared.

For $100,000, Harman believes, the additional territory can be purchased and a water front and bathing beaches established. Included in the proposed extension would be the abandoned quarry of the Lima Stone Co., which at comparatively small expense could be filled in to a depth suitable for bathing.

INSTALL DAM

With the installation of a sewage disposal plant and subsequent cleansing of the water of the Ottawa river the construction of a dam at the south end of the park will provide swimming facilities in the nature of a clear body of water 100 feet in width, with a rock bottom and 18 feet deep at the south end.

Running the entire length of the park would be a clear stream of water bordered by an excellent beach. The water front in time would do credit to the best summer resort in the country, Harman said, with ample provisions for boating and canoeing.

Action taken by the city to insure the purchase of the surrounding territory in the long run will prove an economical move, Harman stated. The central location of Faurot, made easy to access by the inevitable extension of Lima's street car system and its nearness to industrial population centers in the south of the city makes the park an ideal site for concerted action to create of Faurot a civic park for all time, he said.

LONG TERM BONDS

"Long term issue of $100,000 would buy the property and complete improvements," Harman said. "By issuing long term bonds the future generations will be permitted to pay for the benefits they will derive."

"There is nothing unfair in such a proposition," Harman added. "At present we are engaged in paying off debts contracted by those before us. Construction of the dam and improvement of the beach will necessarily wait upon the installation of a sewage system. But such a system is bound to be installed and the city should buy while the property is cheap," he declared.

AWAITS SEWAGE DISPOSAL

No action has been taken by the city commission at this time and no action can be taken until the sewage disposal plant is installed, Mayor Harold Cunningham said.

City finances at this time are not in shape to undertake such a project of park extension and beautification, he stated, but as a civic project the plan meets with his approval.

It is probable, he said, that action to establish a Central park along the lines suggested by Harman and under consideration by the park commission will be taken by a future city commission.

TWO INJURED IN CRASH

TOLEDO.—Two persons were injured seriously and 24 shaken up when an inbound Long Belt street car jumped the tracks here Saturday night.

ACTIVITIES OF Y. W. C. A.

Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. consisting of girls of high school age, completed its most successful year under the supervision of Miss Margarette Creamer, girl work secretary of the local association, with a membership more than doubled over previous efforts. Included in the Girl Reserves are four clubs: South and Central Blue Triangles, South Junior Girl Reserves and "Up A'D" Corps, totaling 375 members.

The ideal of the Girl Reserve Department is to develop leadership and supply or supplement those things which make the "all around" girl. In all the clubs the programs have been planned on the four-fold plan, emphasizing health, knowledge, service and spirit.

While regular club meetings are not continued thru the summer months the girls are urged to join the tennis and hiking clubs at the Y. W. and a group of girls will leave in August for the Girls' Reserve camp at Yarnell Point, Warsaw, Indiana.

Delegates who have been elected to the high school girls' conference at Winona Lake, July 27-August 6 are Gae Morton, Marion Cost and Ruby Gunther, from Central and Frances Dets and Louise Smith from South.

Miss Creamer is being complimented for her work during the past year and who with the help of the advisors, Misses Lenore Shumaker, Ethel Stiles, Carrie Acton, Ethel Asher, Esther Hartshorn, Virginia Warner and Juanita Pace has increased the membership two-fold.

The first meeting of the new year will be a "Scouting Up Conference" in August which will be attended by the cabinet and committee members of both High school clubs. General plans for the coming year will be made at that time.

Following is the Y. W. C. A. program for this week:

Monday, council meeting of Industrial club officials, 7 p. m.

Tuesday, monthly meeting of Board of Directors at Y. W. C. A., 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday, headquarters committee, Mrs. A. E. Schiewe, chairman, 1 p. m.; membership committee, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, chairman, 7 p. m.

Friday, rehearsal for the play "Every Jack has a Jill," 4:30 p. m.

President Harding Made Tail Cedar

MILFORD, Del. — (United Press) — Received with acclaim, President Harding Saturday night wound up his day in Delaware, by being made a Tail Cedar of Lebanon.

The ceremony, which marked his induction into the Masonic social order, along with Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and George Christian, presidential secretary, occurred in the presence of a large number of Tail Cedars from this and other states who gathered to do honor to the first president since Washington, who ever traversed the state as Mr. Harding did Saturday.

Mr. Harding was unable to remain true to his promise to make it a speechless trip. He was first shaken from his stern resolve at the luncheon tendered him at Wilmington by the Young Men's Republican Club.

In replying briefly to address of welcome by former Senator Henry T. Dupont, and Mayor Harvey, the president spoke of the world fraternity which he hopes America can bring about.

TAG DAY FOR ST. RITA'S WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Annual tag day for St. Rita's hospital will be held Saturday, it is announced. Headquarters will be established at the J. W. Rowlands furniture store, 57 Public Square, and contributions will be accepted at that place.

Mrs. J. S. Myers will be in charge of the one-day drive for funds and will be assisted by Mrs. J. A. Frick, of St. John's parish and Mrs. E. Bridge, of St. Gerard's.

WOMEN CONVEENE WEDNESDAY

Project Work To Be Discussed At All-Day Session

PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED

Townships To Outline Plans For Tubercular Drive

Women of the county will meet Wednesday at Faurot park for an all day session and an extended discussion of project work for the coming year.

H. J. Ridge, county agent, will formally open the meeting with a short talk, following which detailed reports of women's project work will be made by representatives of each township.

Miss Marie Sayles, home economist leader from the state university, will discuss farm plans and projects to be undertaken by women of the county.

Featuring the meeting will be a one act play illustrating various departments of extension work conducted thruout the state. The play, which was originally staged by members in Wyandot-co and has since been given over the state, will be composed of a cast of local women.

Members of the cast are: Mrs. O. C. Miller, Mrs. Russell Wolf, Mrs. A. H. Rothe, Mrs. Oscar Montague, Mrs. Clarence Breese, Mrs. Orin Dickerson and Mrs. Laure Roberts.

A program of community singing will be given and dinner will be served at the park.

Farm work is at a high pitch of activity, Ridge stated Saturday. The rainy delayed operations about one day and farmers are working the fields with redoubled energy, he said.

Moisture came at an opportune time, Ridge said, and the rainfall was worth thousands of dollars to Allen-co farmers. Corn prospects are excellent and plowing is now under way on every farm.

Oats, which were delayed by the dry weather, are looking 50 per cent better. Ridge stated and hay is thickening with indications of a fair yield in spite of earlier indications of almost total failure.

H. J. Ridge, and Roy Sidener will meet with members of the pig club of Perry-co Monday evening to effect organization and to outline plans of operation to members of the club.

Beaverdam will ship the third car of wool Monday, Ridge said. The Beaverdam consignment to the Columbus warehouse will be the final shipment of the wool pool clean up. More than 40,000 pounds of wool have been shipped from the county this year.

Plans for the coming drive against tubercular cattle will be perfected at township farm bureau meetings held this week thruout the county. Members of the Rockport bureau will meet Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church to outline such plans.

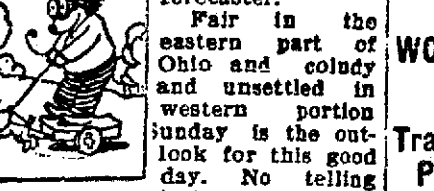

Thursday evening the Jackson-tup Bureau will meet at Lafayette and will effect similar plans. It is expected that farmers thruout the county will sign up to test their cattle on the area best basis. The action on the part of township bureau anticipates use of state indemnity funds which becomes available July 1.

FARMER WAITING FOR SHAVE IS TAKEN ILL

Frank Shade, 35, farmer, residing on St. Johns-rd was stricken Saturday with an attack of acute indigestion, while waiting his turn at a barber shop in E. Market-st. Shade was removed to Lima City hospital in an ambulance. His condition there was reported improved Saturday night, altho he was unable to leave the hospital.

WEATHER TODAY AN UNCERTAINTY

Fattening up his golfing record may be the ambition of the weather mascot this day—and then it may not. All depends on circumstances accord to the mood of the forecaster.

Fair in the eastern part of Ohio and cloudy and unsettled in western portion Sunday is the outlook for this good day. No telling just what will occur. But if golfers and baseballers are afforded an opportunity for activity, they'll be lucky. It is generally agreed.

There are to be showers again Monday, with mild temperature, according to the weather report. However, that isn't infallible, as past experience proves. Perhaps it's best to prepare for rain. That'll be playing safe.

Long rangers and local forecasters agree upon the point that chilly conditions cannot remain and that Old Sol will soon be on the job again with a vengeance, making up for lost time and giving impetus to growing things in a manner that will bring joy to the hearts of the farmers and gardeners.

If rain does not come, 'twill be a delightful day for motoring. Owners of machines are consequently hoping that Pluvius will delay operations until Monday at least.

FAIR SOCIETY IS NOT DISBANDED

Continues In Force, To Work For Show This Year or Next

Decision to hold a county fair this year if grounds can be obtained, was reached by the Allen-co fair board, in a session held at the court house Saturday afternoon, Dale Creamean, secretary, announced. Previously announced plans to disband the society were revised.

The meeting was adjourned subject to call of the president, Charles Sprague, of Shawnee-tup, and the directors were urged not to abandon hope of putting over a fair, bigger and better than ever. If success does not attend the effort this year it will be continued next year, it was stated.

If grounds cannot be located, the association will still take an active interest in boys' and girls' livestock clubs. Prizes will be offered as usual for the best showings made. The board has $1,200 on hand which can be used for prizes.

Directors and treasurer of the society will not be paid for the remainder of the year. Secretary Creamean, however, will continue to draw his salary of $600 a year, and $4 a day for each meeting. The directors have been paid $4 a meeting and the treasurer $12 a year.

On July 15 officers and directors of the board and their families will enjoy an old fashioned picnic at the old fair grounds east of the city. Hopes for holding the annual fair were blighted, when owners of the Lima driving park refused to renew the lease for grounds.

TWO MEN LOCKED UP ON INTOXICATION CHARGES

Ralph Taylor, 20, of 710 N. Main-st, and Albert Harrod, 41, of 122 Euclid-av, were jailed Saturday night by police on charges of intoxication. Police arrested Harrod near his home after getting a complaint that he was beating his wife and had threatened to kill her. She told police he had choked her.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

IN the securities markets for the week, a hectic period was undergone in New York, following the recent heavy declines, and the usual crashes of brokerage houses. The disturbances were reflected on the big board and the week closed irregular and on the bottom.

In other lines of endeavor, however, optimism quite generally pervades, with a basic belief that the boom of the first quarter has ended. Trade in general is expected to become stalemate during the third quarter of the year with possible revival in the autumn. Building plans are practically over, and only sporadic new work may be expected.

Locally, the week was good for retail business, especially among housefurnishers. Early clearance sales will probably rule during June. There is yet much buying to come for the real hot weather, a taste of which came last week, to be followed by the cool wave of the week-end.

Money is in only fair demand at the banks and Building & Loans, and the supply in good volume. Industry locally continues at capacity, and the outlook is that it will remain so for all our industries during the remainder of the year. Real estate, outside the activity in housing, continues dull with no indications of any concessions in price.

A MOTHER'S PLIGHT

"THE poor we have with us always"

But organized charity, equipped with funds and a determination on the part of people of humanitarian impulse, see to it that actual want is dispelled in worthy cases for the most part.

However, there are occasions when these agencies combined are unable to afford relief where mostly needed.

Proof is afforded in a local case which confronted the Family Welfare association here during the past week. Inability of the welfare workers to secure for a mother and her five small children a place they may call home, which can be had for $15 per month or less, presents a situation which seems almost incredible in Lima, a city of progress and thrift, of charity and humanity, of churches and schools and culture.

Living in two small rooms, compelled to sleep in the same bed with three of the smaller children, is the problem which confronts this mother. Employed during the day, to gain a livelihood for her little brood, her burden is such as to try her very soul.

As tho that were not sufficient to wring with anguish the heart of a faithful and devoted mother, there must needs come an order to vacate even the two poor rooms. What wonder then that she is consumed with grief and fear for the future? Try as they would, welfare workers were unable to gain consent of a property owner anywhere for the occupancy of a small home or rooms by this family.

It is the same answer everywhere: "The children will destroy the property." Mother love impels the brave little woman to keep her children together. She is fighting a hard battle, disheartened and discouraged, she fights on.

What of the husband and father? one may ask. He is a ward of the state. He is imprisoned in explanation of a crime against society. It is not the fault of the wife and mother. Neither had the children any part in their father's wrongdoing, save perhaps that he may have stolen that they should not suffer.

Here is an opportunity for real charity. Will charitable Lima meet it?

SAFETY FIRST!

LIMA and environs continue making daily contributions to the total number of unnecessary traffic accidents which are growing by leaps and bounds as the number of vehicles in city streets and on high roads increases.

We are apparently living in an age of feverish haste of such a marked character that many persons fail to heed warnings, traffic laws or the most commonplace rules of the road. Thousands who sit in the driver's seat of speeding cars fail to profit by the experiences of others. Hospitals continue to receive the maimed victims of carelessness and the undertakers bury the dead.

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good."

While surgeons and undertakers fatten their incomes, and auto dealers profit thru the replacing of wrecked cars, the orgy of carelessness continues—apparently increases.

Sunday seems to be the most prolific day of the week for accidents. This is Sunday. Who will be killed today? Who will be injured? How many will be the victims of their own carelessness—how many the victims of the carelessness of others?

LET'S DO IT!

IT is not expected in any community that every project which comes to the fore in fancy can be carried out in actuality.

However, there has been in the course of making in Lima for a long time a project that should by all means be made something more than a dream. Reference is made to the suggestion of the building of a permanent auditorium for indoor displays at any season of the year, for monster conventions, for assemblies of citizens of the Lima territory.

Lima needs an auditorium for midwinter fairs, for style shows, poultry shows, elsteds, automobile exhibits, for conventions and for many other possibilities that would flow easily in its direction.

Let's build an auditorium. No better investment could be made for the future development of this city.

HONORING FAULKNER

IT has been proposed by the Ohio Legislative Correspondents' association to erect a memorial to the late James W. Faulkner, dean of the newspaper correspondents' profession in Ohio and for 40 years active in his chosen profession.

In fact, a committee has already been named to determine the form the memorial shall take. The Lima News has a suggestion to make in this connection—or rather approval of a plan offered by another publication which appeals to us as being the most fitting under the circumstances.

Since Faulkner won fame and renown by his infatigable reflection of political news happenings in Ohio in and about the state house at Columbus, what could be more fitting or a more lasting testimonial to an exceptional man in his chosen profession than the dedication of a tablet in a conspicuous position in the rotunda of the state house?

He won the respect and the friendship of thousands within its walls. It is there any testimonial intended to perpetuate his memory should be placed.

WHAT FORD PROPOSES

HENRY FORD, flivver manufacturer, proposes to stake one of the most spectacular and amazing political feats ever attempted in the history of the United States.

There is little doubt but that he is an active candidate for the presidency, but he steadfastly refuses to connect himself with either of the old parties. He will be an independent candidate—if at all. And in the light of sentiment that is crystallizing for him among certain classes of voters in a manner that is giving politicians the gravest concern, it is now believed that his plan of campaign will take the form of endeavoring to secure all kinds of nominations, without committing himself to any particular party.

He may take part in primaries—to keep his name before the people. His plan of action will be somewhat along the line employed by Roosevelt supporters in 1916, but it is intended to go farther, for the Detroit manufacturer will seek endorsement from any and all parties, posing as an independent.

Marked sentiment for Ford for president, found by Collier's Weekly in a new fangled test vote, is probably pleasing to that publication, for the reason that it has been a pronounced Ford advocate.

DUET?

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

ONCE WE HAD A LITTLE CHILD
Once we had a little child,
Life was radiant when she smiled,
In that happy long ago
Every charm was ours to know,
Swiftly by the glad years went,
Filled with hope and merriment—
Then one night the angels came
To her bed and spoke her name,
Came and whispered: "Marjorie!
God has sent us down for thee."

Oh, the bitter tears which fell!
Oh, the heart we cannot tell,
And the lonely days and bleak
While we vainly tried to seek
Reason for that cruel blow,
Oft we cried: "We'll never know
Why this sorrow had to be!
God has taken Marjorie,
Called away our lovely child,
Leaving us unreconciled."

Now we talk of her again,
Free from every worldly pain;
Now our hair is tinged with gray,
But we see her at her play,
Age has come to us, but she
Is the child she used to be.
Neither sin nor hurt nor care
Now can mar her beauty there,
Marjorie will always be
Innocent and fair to see.

She's safe from every woe,
Hurt and pain she'll never know,
She was ours, the brief her stay,
Time can never take away,
Change or stain her memory,
Lovely that will always be.
We shall know her, young and fair
As she was, untouched by care;
She shall smile, as once she smiled,
Always as our lovely child.

BEST WAY TO GET MORE

It is interesting to speculate upon a remedy which only prosperous people can afford. It is exercise.

There is a certain minimum daily requirement of exercise which normal individuals cannot do without.

Now and then one hears of an individual who boasts he takes no exercise. He isn't normal; I challenge any individual who does without exercise to undergo a reasonable test of his physical condition. As nearly as it may be determined, the minimum daily requirement in the way of exercise is six miles of oxygen on the hoof. Of course one may take it lying prone or supine, or climbing trees, or digging worms, or punching the bag, or playing ball, or dancing, or mowing grass or sawing wood. But one must get it.

ABE MARTIN

We need to feel sorry for the word "poor" when it was so overworked, but how in the world the word "service" manages to hold up under the strain gets us. Spoken in a dynamic, Tell Blinky shook heads with Will H. Hays, last week, and shed his neuritis.

but a few years ago the platform would have crowded bees. At the steps, saluted by M'seur Carl Fletcher, the eminent flowerologist. Who to Dayton, was going. Invited me to partake of luncheon aboard car. A luxury in which I seldom revel. And did accept.

At Hamilton met by Dee, who drove us to her Aunt Mary's. She called it so, yet it looked like a boarding school to me. All the afternoon, seeing played Miss Nellie of N' Orleans. Without scenery, and well done it was. Greeted Miss Martin Cable, the charming and talented daughter of the Lima telephone and street car king. Thence saw an Academic Procession headed by the press, gownned like an Episcopal father. A class of 33 in grave over- as cap of undertaker colors. The preacher who delivered the getaway talk, said there were yet three classes of Americans and cosmic folks. Who couldn't be controlled, or even bossed. First, the cook, which I well knew; secondly, the labor leader, which I certainly did know; and thirdly, the Student, which Dee has taught me to know. The Dean gave the class a sheep-skin, written in unmodernized Dago, which I couldn't read. Until one of the learned American wops deciphered it.

Lunched, with a yelling body of wild Indians. Called undergrads. Thence, in fear, hastened to a room assigned me in the village. There I met Fred E. Wood, who is building a new campus high school for Miami university students. To room in and smoke. Then came Fred's clever daughter, Miss Theima. She achieved collegiate renown by kidnapping two seniors in their bathing suits. Leaving them stranded in the public square.

On a walk, saw sitting sunning himself bedtimes, Dr. Jonathan Vail. With an old college playmate. He here, having come to trustee. For the students and award them degrees, of heat, cold and learnability.

In the evening brushed my teeth well. And away to a reception where the ladies were very chic in their best gowns. And the men in any old thing. Greeted Mrs. Mayme Freeman Smith of Middletown. And her sister Mrs. Madara Freeman McClintock of New York. Two young chicks and I dined about Bill Laughlin's good health, but otherwise no super folks made inquiry.

All the evening eating ice cream and cake, and thence away to my dorm straw mat. Sending Dee home by gas, tarried under the old campus oaks, trying to recall the years of "Galla omnia est divisa in partieties." And so, late to bed.

$7,000 ALIMONY AWARDED

Mrs. Clela A. Sealts Gets Divorce And Custody of Child

SEALTS ASKS NEW TRIAL

Testimony, Which Named Police. Heard Weeks Ago

Mrs. Clela A. Sealts, 504 W. Wayne-st., was awarded $7,000 alimony under terms of a decree divorcing her from Roy A. Sealts, member of the firm of J. M. Sealts Co., wholesale grocers, handed down by Judge Fred C. Becker, Saturday. The divorce was granted on grounds of cruelty.

She will also obtain custody of her child with an allowance of $35 a month for maintenance, and all household goods. The defendant, however, will have the right of reasonable visitation.

SAYS ALIMONY TOO HIGH

Contract said to have been entered into between the litigants several years ago, giving Mrs. Sealts one-half of 220 shares of J. M. Sealts stock, held by the defendant, and all other property, was disregarded by the court.

In motion for a new trial filed Saturday Sealts asks that the decree be vacated on the grounds that the alimony award is too high. An answer to the motion filed by Mrs. Sealts asserts that the court should award her a larger amount of alimony.

Testimony in the case was heard by Judge Becker several weeks ago and a decree on grounds of cruelty agreed upon.

The court, however, withheld its decision until an investigation of Sealts' holdings was made, as a basis for fixing the amount of alimony.

SAYS POLICE DRANK IN HOME

Testimony given by Mrs. Sealts at the hearing charged that police officers had visited her home during a time when her husband was recuperating from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, and drank liquor.

The officers named were Webb Harrison and Ray Blair. The latter brought a supply of liquor with him, on one occasion, Mrs. Sealts declared.

WOMAN IS STRICKEN

Mrs. S. S. Fuller, of Huntington, Ind., who was stopping in Lima, entered Lima City hospital, Saturday night, for observation. Mrs. Fuller was stricken with illness while here.

PASTOR ENDS VISIT HERE

Rev. William A. Tobin, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas' church, Toledo, former assistant rector of St. Rose Catholic church, has returned to his home, after a visit at St. Rose parochial residence here.

ONE CASKET FOR BODIES OF MOTHER AND CHILD

One casket will contain the bodies of Mrs. Cleo Johnson, 26, and her child, funeral services for whom will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Lutheran church in Lafayette. Death followed shortly after birth of the child Friday.

Funeral services will be held at the family home, 422 S. Union-st., before the funeral party leaves for Lafayette, a monument will be in Lafayette cemetery.

Services originally had been arranged for the Baptist church in Mercer, Md. but—

DIVORCE DECREES TO FIVE

Neglect and Cruelty Plea of Four Women And One Man

ONE CASE IS CONTINUED

Earl Coppel, 19, Claims He Was Forced To Marry

Five divorce decrees granted in common pleas court Saturday, swelling the growing list of marital separations in Allen-co. All of the divorces were granted on grounds of neglect and cruelty and were not contested. A sixth case scheduled for hearing was postponed for one week.

Earl Coppel, 19, obtained a decree from Hazel Potts Coppel, whom he alleges neglected his welfare. He also testified that he was forced into an unwilling marriage with the girl by her father, who threatened to have him committed to prison.

Because the plaintiff is under legal age, the suit was brought by the Oliver Coppel, next of kin.

Testimony given in court by Mrs. Bertha Ramsey, purporting to show that Frank M. Ramsey failed to support her, and subjected her to abuse while she was sick, won her a decree.

WILL THIRD PARTY BE WET?

LaFollette Will Attempt to Avoid Issue Entirely

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—"If LaFollette and his progressives start a third party, will it be wet or dry?" asks a correspondent, adding, "Some of us, who are disgusted at the quibbling and side-stepping on this question, would like to know if we can expect the progressives to meet it with courage."

The answer is that LaFollette will try to avoid the issue entirely. He will have plenty of others to talk about.

Wisconsin wets recently tried to find out how liberal LaFollette is in the question of beer. The result of their effort to force a showdown was apparently a setback for the wets, but it was tempered in such a way that LaFollette today is in a position to stand on either side of the question without danger of being accused of having reversed himself.

On a bill to limit the right of search and seizure under the state enforcement law, LaFollette men in the Wisconsin senate voted "No." But the very same day the assembly adopted a resolution memorializing congress to amend the Volstead law to permit beer.

LaFollette's position therefore shapes up about like this: On enforcement of the 18th amendment and the Volstead law, he stands with the dries. On amendment of the Volstead law to permit use of beer, he might be willing to concede something to the wets who voted for him so numerous the last time he ran for the senate.

NEEDS OF THE DRY VOTES

The reason LaFollette hopes to avoid the issue altogether lies in the fact that this year his horizon is much broader than Wisconsin. While wet votes might be needed to elect him there, dry votes will certainly be necessary if he is to make any showing in the presidential nomination fight in the Republican national convention, or later as a third party candidate.

LaFollette's greatest strength outside of his own state lies in the middle western, western and northwestern states. A good many of these were dry even before national prohibition came. In many of them prohibition is a fact, not an affliction. The people are really dry and they vote dry. LaFollette must not offend the Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas dries. If he expects to get anywhere, he knows it.

But he proceeds upon the theory that to those folk, prohibition is not any longer an issue. They are interested in railroads, taxes, and similar subjects, and it is about these things he will talk to them.

If LaFollette is unsuccessful in his presidential aspirations, he will have plenty of time in the ensuing four or five years to get himself squared with Wisconsin wets, his friends say, and will be as strong as ever in the next electoral campaign.

NEWS OF PUTNAM-CO

LAW, ORDER BODY IS COMMENDED

Putnam-co S. S. Convention Attacks Prohibition Enemies

The Law and Order League of Putnam-co was commended in resolutions adopted by the Putnam-co Sunday school convention, at the close of the annual session in Leipsic.

The convention went on record as having faith in the Eighteenth amendment and denounced any move to weaken the Volstead act or any prohibition law.

Voters are urged in the resolutions to visit the polls at the August primaries and cast their ballot only for candidates known to be dry.

"We commend the Law and Order League of Putnam-co for the way in which they aroused the citizens of Putnam-co to clear the political atmosphere and proved to the nullifiers that success at the August primaries last year meant nothing," the resolution read.

President Warren C. Harding was commended for his stand on law enforcement. Action of Governor Smith, of New York and the Legislature of that state in repealing the law which the resolutions said threw open the gates to bootleggers and law violators, was condemned in the resolutions.

The convention went on record as believing in and urging the enforcement of the law, making the person who sells liquor guilty of a crime in the second degree with penalty of life imprisonment in case the victim dies.

The association also urged the strict enforcement of the Gordon peddock law which closes places of business of violators and holds such places a public nuisance.

The resolutions pay tribute to the work of George C. Williams, of Ottawa, veteran president, who for 45 years has not missed a Sunday school convention in Putnam-co.

Williams has attended also seven International Sunday school conventions.

Fire Marshal Is Also Auctioneer; Keeps Him Busy

John Cowan, deputy state fire marshal, and former representative for many years of Putnam-co, is a busy man.

He had no more than arrived home Saturday noon from his trip over the district as deputy fire marshal until he began crying a sale of household goods for Luther McNett.

Cowan previously had posted bills for the sale. He frequently is called upon to serve as auctioneer. For many terms consecutively, he was elected representative of Putnam-co.

He was made deputy fire marshal by Governor Donahay.

Cowan covers Putnam, Hardin, Van Wert and Paulding-cos as a deputy state fire marshal.

DAVIS TRUSTS IN LADY LUCK

Laugh at Him if You Like; He Doesn't Care

SUPPRESS MARATON DANCES

Marshall Evolves Plan Test in Washington

THE LIMA NEWS BUREAU
Washington, June 9.
By HARRY B. HUNT

Washington, (Special).—The success of James C. Davis, director-general of the United States Railroad Administration, in settling 90 per cent of all railroad claims against the government for approximately 25 cents on the dollar, has been due to something more specific than out-talking the other fellows.

If you were to sit in with Davis at one of his closing conferences with railroad attorneys, where the fate of millions hung in the balance, you might notice his right hand closed loosely around something which he stroked gently, from time to time, between thumb and forefinger. If the debate got close, or the attorneys grew wantonly, you could see the hand close with a tighter grip. Then, when a final agreement had been reached, with the roads accepting from 25 to 40 per cent of their original demands, and all hands arose to say goodby, you might see Davis slip something surreptitiously into his left vest-pocket.

That something would be—yes, no joking about it—the left hand foot of a rabbit!

Logic, arguments, facts, hard work—all may have contributed to Davis' success in getting a good settlement. But if you ask him what was the most potent factor, he will tell you it was the rabbit's foot.

"I never had any luck of any sort till after I stole a rabbit foot from a cross-eyed colored bellboy in a Des Moines hotel," Davis says. "After that, everything came my way till I lost it. Then my luck left too. I never got it back till I got this rabbit foot—in the Argentine. Since then Lady Luck's been with me right along!"

Thomas R. Marshall, former vice president, has evolved a solution for the problem of how to suppress maraton dances, extreme flapperism, shock trousers and other "folies."

Tom, who is taking a philosophical bent as his years increase, says he has often noticed that most folks pride themselves on their follies but at the same time look upon insanity as a disgrace.

"If we would class all such follies as exhibiting an outcropping of insanity," Tom says, "folks would shun rather than seek the notorious they invite."

The said test for a real Washingtonian is—Does he play the races?

The man or woman residing here who doesn't take a fling on the ponies simply hasn't qualified. Not to bet on the horses brands one as from "the sticks," an out-lander, an alien.

In these circumstances, it is natural that bookmaking flourishes. It is probable that the number of bookmakers in Washington exceeds even the number of bootleggers.

The former flourish and run wealthily while the officers run themselves breathless chasing the latter.

One day last week police broke into one of the biggest bookmaking establishments in town.

This office, which has operated for years, is organized on a big business basis. Its equipment includes 16 telephones, many connecting with private wires direct to the track-side. Four idling machines, expert bookkeepers and a staff of about 20 persons are required to handle its daily run of business.

But it wasn't raided because of bookmaking. The officers were only after a crap game that some of the employees had started after hours. Shooting craps is gambling. Playing the races is sport—in Washington.

UNREQUITED LOVE AVENGED

Filipino Kills American Girl who Scorned Him.

DRIVEN MAD BY RIVAL.

Man-Servant Admits Murder Of New York Nurse

NEW YORK.—(United Press).—Unrequited love—the hopeless passion of a yellow man for a white woman—cost the life of Blossom Martin, according to a confession made to police Saturday night that he strangled the girl to death with his bare hands, by Eulogio Lozada, a Filipino, who was captured as he sought to hurl the body into the bay.

Lozada, native of Uncle Sam's farthest eastern possession, a man-servant who loved but could not win a daughter of the west, told 24 hours after the gruesome crime that shocked New York, that jealousy and unrequited passion were the motives for the sensational murder.

When arrested as he was about to throw overboard from a ferry a huge brown paper parcel, containing the crumpled body of Miss Martin, Lozada confessed to the slaying, but intimated he and the dead girl had been sweethearts and that he killed her because she insisted he marry her.

What he now declares to be the true story, brings into the case the name of a wealthy Manhattan shoe dealer, with whom Blossom Martin is said to have lived for two years as man and wife. She was employed as assistant in the office of Dr. George B. McAdams, whose servant was Lozada.

The Filipino loved the attractive western girl—a hopeless love, apparently, for she is said by other employees of the doctor to have haunted Lozada's love in his yellow face and to have taunted him in the presence of others.

SEES FAREWELL EMBRACE
With the stoicism of his race, he bore the jibes of the girl, but Friday night, peering from behind a curtain, he witnessed the farewell embrace of the girl and her white lover.

In all the torture of his unrequited love for Miss Martin, Lozada's imagination never had encompassed the thought of another man.

Something snapped in his brain; he became at once a demon and a schemer.

His infatuation drove him to accuse the girl when she alighted from her sweetheart's car and to press his suit anew. Her scornful rebuke infuriated him, and when he found himself alone in the house with her, he lured her to his room and attempted an attack upon her.

She ran from him down the stairs to the kitchen, where she picked up a knife and shouted to him:

"If you come any nearer, I'll kill you!"

The wiry little Filipino leaped at her, disarming her, and clasped his hands about her throat, holding her in this position for half an hour, according to his story. When he loosened his hold, she dropped to the floor, dead.

Lozada then tied her hands and feet, bent her body almost double, wrapped a green portiere about the body and wrapped the whole in a brown paper.

He carried the bundle to the corner of 87th-st and Central Park west, where he hailed a taxicab, put the bundle in, and drove to the Staten Island ferry. Curious passengers prevented him from disposing of his gruesome burden. He boarded another and as the boat was just pulling out of the slip, attempted to hurl the body overboard.

A taxi driver who had driven him on Staten Island became suspicious and called to people on the boat, who overpowered the Filipino and partly unwrapped the bundle, disclosing Miss Martin's head.

Letters from Lozada to the girl were found in her effects. These written in stiff, flowery English, declared he was "in a terrible dilemma ever since I met you," and said that he had selected her to be his wife.

"All night sometimes, I could not sleep for thinking of you," he wrote. "Please be merciful and use the best judgment in my favor. Please don't tarry in answering this letter, in order that I may be free from mental and physical disturbance."

"I love you ever since, but I am only waiting for the time to mature to reveal to you the supreme sacrifice I am having at present."

He added, pathetically: "This is probably the poorest and most despicable letter you ever received."

After three hours' grilling by Captain Carri of the homicide squad, Lozada stuck to his confession, declaring he had killed the girl during an angry quarrel when she refused to marry him.

Later, however, he broke down and told about the rival.

LIMA SAILOR, HOME FROM SERVICE OF THREE YEARS, PASSED THRU EARTHQUAKE

James I. Heffner, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heffner, of 1100 Bellefontaine-av, a sailor on the U. S. S. Canby, in the South Pacific, is perhaps the only Lima resident who passed thru the earthquake which recently devastated an area near Santiago, Chili.

Heffner has returned home after four years service in the United States navy. His ship was off the coast of Chili during the earthquake and tidal wave which followed.

The warship escaped possible destruction by steaming northward. While on the Camden, Heffner spent considerable time in the Canal Zone. He was discharged at New London, Connecticut.

KAISER AND BRIDE SEPARATED? NO!

This picture spikes the rumor that Wilhelm, ex-kaiser of Germany, and his bride have separated. It was taken as Wilhelm and Princess Hermine strolled through the streets of Doorn after her return from a six-weeks visit to her former home in Silesia. This is the second time they have been together on the streets of Doorn since their wedding last November. Note that Wilhelm walks on the inside, swinging his cane with his good arm.

MATE JAILED ON WIFE'S STORY

Montana Man Accused by Spouse of Killing Couple

BOZEMAN, Mont.—(United Press).—Seth O. Donner, formerly of South Dakota, was in jail here Saturday night accused by his wife of the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Sprouse, of Moberly, S. D., more than 30 months ago.

Donner protests his innocence. Authorities say they have a sworn statement from Mrs. Donner saying her husband killed the Sprouses while the two families were motoring west late in 1920. The murders occurred at Central Park, Mont., where the tourists were camping, according to the alleged statement.

Mrs. Donner's "confession" alleged that Mrs. Sprouse was killed by blows from a hunter's axe the evening of November 14, 1920. A few hours before that Sprouse was shot and killed some distance from camp.

Mrs. Donner led authorities to the couples' graves and the bodies were recovered, officials said.

OPERATION NOT NECESSARY
F. F. Pope, Ottawa undertaker, and member of the firm of Herringhaus & Pope, was able to be removed from St. Rita's hospital, Saturday night, where he was taken Thursday, following an attack of sudden illness from obstruction of the bowels. An operation was not necessary, it was decided.

Justice of Peace E. M. Botkin, candidate for the Democratic nomination, will file Monday, he announced. Clement Ohler, Republican and Judge E. J. Jackson, Democrat, are already out for criminal judge.

DIVERSIFIED OFFERINGS FOR LIMA MOVIE FANS ALL THIS WEEK

BILLS TO MEET ALL FANCIES

Comedy, Sparkling Romance, Longfellow Story and Others Listed to Please

(BY GERTRUDE GILMAN)

CINEMA fans should have no difficulty in pleasing their fancies this week at the local theatres, a very diversified bill of entertainment being offered for their approval.

Comedy reigns at the Sigma where two films of that nature are being presented. "A Front Page Story" is a newspaper yarn filled with laughs and based upon the story by Arthur Goodrich. Edward Horton, as Rodney Marvin, gives a performance that is naturally funny while Edith Roberts is pleasing as the heroine. The clever film titles add greatly to the mirth of the picture.

John Bowers and Colleen Moore head the cast in "Affinities," adapted from the story by Mary Roberts Rinehart. There is romance, a bit of near pathos and a wealth of wholesome humor in this sparkling comedy-drama which makes a most refreshing picture. This special double attraction bill will continue at the Sigma until Friday.

"The Village Blacksmith," a William Fox production with a splendid cast headed by William Walling, Virginia Valli and Dave Butler, appears again today and until Tuesday at the Lyric theatre. It is a story of small town life and typical American family adapted from the poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. All thru the scenes of the photoplay the sterling qualities of Longfellow's hero are preserved.

Conrad Nagel and Bebe Daniels are co-starred in "Singed Wings" at the Majestic. Miss Daniels has the role of a Spanish dancer, while Nagel plays the leading masculine part, that of Peter Gordon. Nagel is regarded as one of the screen's best young actors and his role in "Singed Wings" gives him ample opportunity to display his talent to the best advantage. The heavy role is played by Adolphe Menjou, one of the best players of bathroom and polished villain roles. Don Jose della Guardia, grandfather of Bonita, is played by Robert Brower. An old man, hardly able to walk with the aid of his cane and teased to exasperation by Emilio, a simple minded clown, Brower has created a character of great strength.

Ernest Torrence has the part of Emilio, one of the strongest characterizations in the picture. Emilio is a clown in the cafe at which Bonita dances. He is simple minded but cunning nevertheless. He loves Bonita, who treats him kindly and thereby provokes a tragedy. The remaining role, that of Eve Gordon, the neglected wife of Billas Gordon, is played by Mabel Trunelle. Finding herself losing the love of her husband, she faces death, and is killed, in an effort to regain that love.

"Snowdrift," starring Charles Jones, opens a two day engagement at the Rialto today.

The weekend, too, has an unusual program of attraction. Beginning Friday and continuing for three days, the Sigma is offering Winsome Viola Dana in her latest production, "A Noise in the Woods." The cast is one of the best ever assembled for a Dana picture and includes David Butler, Eva Novak, Alan Forrest, Betty Francisco, Malcolm McGregor and Joan Standish.

Miss Dana has the role of a small town girl who is snubbed because she is poor. But she resolves Sunday she will come back and make a noise in the old home town, and she does.

The Lyric Pictures

THE Lyric has arranged a program par excellence for the pleasure of its patrons during the coming week with two recent Fox production of unusual merit holding the screen.

The first of the week includes "The Village Blacksmith," an adaption of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's famous poem and with a cast of many favorites headed by William Walling, Virginia Valli, Dave Butler, Tully Marshall and Bessie Love.

This offering does for father what "Over the Hill" did for mother—it gives him all the credit that is due him to the accompaniment of numerous smiles and tears. It is a wholesome and interesting story of family life in a rural setting beginning, in a prologue, at a day when the blacksmith's children are in school, and tracing their growth, their sorrows and their joys.

John Hammond, the village blacksmith, is left with three children by the death of his wife. The youngest, Johnnie, is crippled, and the oldest Bill, goes off to medical college, his greatest ambition being to become a great surgeon and cure Johnnie. Alice, the daughter, takes the place of her mother in the humble home.

Anson Irishman, worthless son of a skin-flint squire, returns from college and trifles with Alice's affections. He learns that she holds $840 belonging to the church and steals it. The town gossip has spread tales about Anson's frequent meetings with Alice, much to the embarrassment of the girl, and when she is forced to admit to the church that its funds have disappeared, her position is painfully trying.

A friend of Alice learns that Anson has taken the money and hurries to the Hammond home in a driving storm to tell Alice, but Alice, driven to desperation, has left the house to end her life in the river. The girl tells the blacksmith, who hurries after his daughter and saves her at the water's edge.

In the meantime, the crippled brother, learning of Anson's villainy, drags himself over the ground to the squire's house where he denounces Anson to the latter's father. His reward is a horsewhipping.

Scene from "Affinities" by Mary Roberts Rinehart, with Colleen Moore and John Bowers at the Sigma.

by father and son, which is interrupted by the arrival of the blacksmith, who thrashes the two and hauls them to the church to confess the truth about the disappearance of the money.

The happiness at Alice's vindication is heightened when Bill, the elder brother, performs an operation on Johnnie and restores to him the use of his legs. Alice marries the man of her choice and Johnnie takes an old school chum for his bride.

"The Village Blacksmith" is a brilliant cinema, filled with pathos and heart throbs. It is a story that applies to almost any village in the United States with characters truly American.

Starting on Tuesday and continuing for four days, "The Custard Cup" with Mary Carr, the star of "Over the Hill" and many other pretentious pictures, will be the attraction at the Lyric. It is a story of cheerfulness and optimism and is filled with a kindly humor and thrilling, sensational episodes.

enough tense drama to make it one of the biggest pictures of the season. The story tells about Fanny and Day Hington and Ida and Ferd Jackson who are members of an exclusive country club, the majority of whose members have more time on their hands than they know how to use. Day Hington is an ardent golfer and spends much of his time on the links, so much in fact, that his neighbor, Ferd Jackson, becomes self-elected companion of Day's pretty wife. Ferd finally convinces Fanny that her husband is neglecting her, and Fanny falls easy prey to Ferd's proposal of an "affinity" party, the members of which are the neglected wives and husbands of the husbands and wives who are interested in something more important than their better or lesser halves.

The party is held, but does not prove a success and in the end Fanny discovers that while she was away with Ferd, Day had been having an affinity party of his own. There are explanations and apologies and while Day takes Fanny in his arms—well, there's a happy ending.

The other half of the bill is equally as humorous, if not more so, as it deals with the cantankerous quarreling that has extended over a generation between John Gorham, mayor of the town and Matt Hayward, the editor of the paper. These two men are both all wrapped up in the destiny of their city, but they differ as to methods to promote its progress. The years of this bloodless feud comes to a climax over the disposition of the Mussarotti farm, and the point of contention is whether the farm shall be reserved for factory sites or for a park.

Into this quarrel comes Rodney Marvin, a newspaper man, splendidly and modestly played by Edward Horton. Gorham has bought up a note of Hayward's which is overdue and threatens to close him out. Marvin, who is looking for "opportunity," manages by a clever ruse to gain an option on the farm and virtually trade in the option for Hayward's note.

Gorham induces the advertisers to quit, and Marvin finds he must bring peace to these implacable enemies, so he publishes a full page announcement that the paper will print "The Truth About Gorham." Gorham, of course, has done nothing of which to be ashamed, but nobody believes that. Even his wife and daughter fear social ruin. So in desperation he goes to the paper to demand that the story be killed. Rodney Marvin has his story ready when the mayor and editor, formed into allies by the turn of events, shake hands over their success in buying Rodney's interest in the paper and presumably killing the story. But the story goes and when it is published—there is the surprise! We will not spoil the reader's enjoyment of this really fine play. Comedy in screen parlance has usually meant the slapstick variety. Here is true comedy, situations built soundly and which create the first wave of chuckles in the first hundred feet and it never ends.

The cast is splendid. Edward Horton improves with each picture. Edith Roberts plays the editor's daughter, Buddy Messenger is a fat and likeable printer's devil.

At the Majestic

ANOTHER of those splendid casts that are characteristic of Paramount pictures, has been assembled for "Singed Wings"

Penrhyn Stanlaws' Paramount production in which Bebe Daniels and Conrad Nagel are featured, and which appears at the Majestic today and tomorrow. Miss Daniels has the role of Bonita della Guardia, a beautiful Spanish cafe dancer, while Nagel plays the leading masculine part, that of Peter Gordon. Nagel is regarded as one of the screen's best young actors and his role in "Singed Wings" gives him ample opportunity to display his talent to the best advantage. The heavy role is played by Adolphe Menjou, one of the best players of bathroom and polished villain roles. Don Jose della Guardia, grandfather of Bonita, is played by Robert Brower. An old man, hardly able to walk with the aid of his cane and teased to exasperation by Emilio, a simple minded clown, Brower has created a character of great strength.

Ernest Torrence has the part of Emilio, one of the strongest characterizations in the picture. Emilio is a clown in the cafe at which Bonita dances. He is simple minded but cunning nevertheless. He loves Bonita, who treats him kindly and thereby provokes a tragedy. The remaining role, that of Eve Gordon, the neglected wife of Billas Gordon, is played by Mabel Trunelle. Finding herself losing the love of her husband, she faces death, and is killed, in an effort to regain that love.

MANAGER PLANS TO AID CUPID

"Please Get Married," Honeymoon Comedy, Is Offering for Forthcoming Week

MANAGERS of the Hawkins-Ball Stock Co. now playing at the Faurot Opera House have issued an invitation to all brides and grooms of this week, as well as to members of wedding parties, to be their guests at the honeymoon comedy offering, "Please Get Married," appearing all week at the Faurot Opera House.

Three special plays were contracted for by the stock management as features for the month of June. "What's Your Husband Doing?" the third of the series will be presented next week.

"Please Get Married," which opens with a matinee today, is the joint work of James Cullen and Lewis Allen Browne. The authors have afflicted a bona fide clergyman with amnesia and while in this mental state, he meets and becomes the partner of a burglar recently discharged from prison. The burglar and man of the cloth burglarize the home of the Ashleys, whose daughter, Mariel, and Freddy Walton are very much in love. Walton's father refuses his consent to a marriage and after learning one of the burglars is a minister, the couple decide to be married and run away, thwarting the elder Walton.

The start on their honeymoon and the first twenty-four hours are passed in a fashionable mountain resort hotel. Following are some of the most humorous incidents ever injected into a comedy when the parents discover their absence and thinking a pseudo-minister has supposedly married them, start a wild chase for the couple. "Please Get Married" will prove most enjoyable entertainment and affords the entire company good roles. Miss Florence Lewin and Alex Macintosh have the leads.

HARMONIC CLUB IN DEMAND

Kiwanis Musical Organization To Sing At State Convention

Lima is getting back on the musical map of the state. Requests have already been made for the services of the Kiwanis Harmonic club at the state Kiwanis convention to be held at Cedar Point the latter part of August. Don John, business manager, announced Saturday and it is highly probable that the local organization will entertain club members from over the state at that time.

State officials of the Kiwanis club will be present at the local debut Tuesday evening at Memorial hall to hear the concert and to verify the impression that the local entertainers should be at the convention, John said. It is also probable, he stated, that the club will attend the next national convention.

APPEAR TUESDAY EVENING
The Kiwanis Harmonic club, an aggregation of the best voices in Lima and in the surrounding community, will appear for the first time Tuesday evening at Memorial hall in conjunction with two artists of international experience in solo and concert work.

Blanche DaCosta, lyric soprano, who appeared in Chicago this week before the national convention of piano manufacturers, at the Drake hotel and Miss Marguerite Volavy, Bohemian pianiste, will add the local artists.

Miss DaCosta, John said, has been engaged to appear on the artists' program at Mansfield next year.

The mixed chorus of 125 voices and the male chorus of 75 will sing for the local audience four competitive numbers to be given at the Mansfield Elstiedford, June 16.

The mixed chorus will sing "Ye Nations Offer to the Lord," by Mendelssohn and "Lullaby of Life," by Leslie. The male chorus will sing "Destruction of Gaza," by Rerilla and "Peaceful Night," by German.

OPERATIC SELECTIONS
Miss DaCosta, the lyric soprano, will include in her repertoire, "Addio," an aria from "Lo Boheme," and a group of American songs. Miss Volavy will play the Prelude in G Minor, by Rachmaninoff, and also the Grieg concerto.

Lima's Harmonic delegation, her first bid for recognition as a music center for many years, will leave for Mansfield early Saturday morning in two special cars, John said. The club will return the same evening.

The Mansfield elstiedford, in which are entered representatives from the strongest musical centers in the country, carries a total of $3000 in prizes. The Kiwanis Harmonic club will compete in the male chorus numbers and in the mixed chorus with five clubs.

The entire chorus will hold a rehearsal Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Trinity M. E. church.

Drama Within Drama

Jane Crowl Triumphs Over Fears In Test Role

(BY JAMES M. DEAN)

NEW YORK — This week marks the close of Jane Crowl's six-months' run in "Romeo and Juliet." And here for the first time is told the story of a play, a drama beyond the stage that concerned Miss Crowl.

It was a secret carefully guarded, but Jane Crowl had made up her mind that if she failed as Juliet she would never set foot on the stage again.

Doubtless the strain of preparation for this role—the final test and ambition of every actress—had something to do with this mental attitude at the time. But Miss Crowl confesses to a fear complex that has all but made a career in the theater impossible.

To play Juliet had been the dream of a lifetime, but it took years for her to "screw her courage to the sticking point." Then, when all was in readiness, came the intruding doubts and fears, not perhaps as to how she would acquit herself, but how she would be received. It was then that Jane Crowl resolved that as far as her professional career was concerned it was "do or die."

What followed is now part of theatrical history. Her "Juliet" has been acclaimed the length and breadth of the land, by dramatic critics, by writers in books and magazines which ordinarily do not treat of the theatre, by visiting artists from England, Russia, France and Germany.

Juliet is the test role of great acting for women, just as Hamlet is for men. And as Juliet, Jane Crowl has enjoyed the longest consecutive run that has ever been recorded of any Shakespearean role in the history of drama in this or any country.

Miss Crowl will make a brief tour to the Pacific Coast in "Romeo and Juliet." Next season she will be seen as Cleopatra on the New York stage. She will also do one of the

JANE CROWL

Shakespeare comedies and in the spring will go to London. In the meantime she will begin the building of a classical repertory. That opening night in "Romeo and Juliet" might have been a Waterloo of all her hopes, but an audience—and many more after it—acclaim her with a silence almost sacred, with tears and at the end with wild tumult that bespeaks the depths to which it had been stirred. And Jane Crowl was spurred on to renewed effort, to a great career.

A Better Machine

This machine has more points of real merit than any washing machine on the market.

It is beautiful in appearance, simple, safe and economical in its operation.

Washing Capacity 50 pounds of family clothes per hour.

THESE POINTS MAKE THE MAYTAG GYRAFOAM WASHER STAND ABOVE ALL OTHERS

1. It is made entirely of metal with a cast aluminum tub, which cannot warp, rust, rot, swell, split or corrode.
2. It is not a dolly, cylinder, vacuum or oscillator; the action of the water is produced by a startling new principle, which actually washes faster and cleaner than by any other principle.
3. It has a metal frame wringer of low design which makes it easy to reach over; wrings backward or forward; adjustable, swinging to five positions, and can be lifted from the machine if so desired; automatic drain plate; positive tension release, which entirely separates the 12 inch wringer rolls.
4. The lid is free from mechanical contraptions of any kind, which allows the operator to open the machine while it is in operation and inspect the clothes as they are being washed.
5. The Model 80 machine has a one-quarter horse power, General Electric motor while the model 82 is equipped with the MAYTAG MULTI-MOTOR half horse engine.
6. The machine can be adjusted heavy casters permitting it to be to any height; and has extra easily moved.
7. It has a worm drive gear, the same as 95% of the large, heavy duty trucks, which insures plenty of power and smooth operation; all gears run in a bath of oil; less gearing on the Gyrafoam machine than any other washer on the market.
8. Will wash faster, cleaner, and more efficiently than any other machine, due to the gyrator which is in the bottom of the tub.
9. Behind it is the largest washing machine factory in the world, and a company of 30 years of successful manufacturing experience.

DELPHOS NEWS

NEW MOVE TO AID DELPHOS FAIR

State Help Will be Sought in Columbus Conference

A large delegation representing the Delphos Tri-county fair association will go to Columbus within a week or two for a conference with Agricultural Director Truax on the proposition of obtaining state aid, it was announced Saturday.

Owing to press of other matters, a meeting of the organization, scheduled for Lang's shoe store, Friday night, could not be held, but a decision to press the aid matter with state authorities was strengthened. It is probable, fair officers say, that a bill in the state legislature providing for an independent fair, which was not reported during the last session, will be revived and presented with several amendments.

The status of the law now is that a fair organization holding three successive events prior to 1919 is eligible to state aid. The Delphos fair began in 1921, but in some way, with assistance of A. P. Sandles, Putnam-co fair authority, and the Van Wert and Putnam-co agricultural societies, the bill is expected to be revamped and presented to the solons.

The measure had been taken up in committee, but at that time it contained nothing covering the Delphos provision. Officials of the tri-county organization immediately got in touch with county representatives and senators and received assurance that the bill would be changed.

Since it is a certainty there will be no Allen-co fair this year and that the county agricultural society will be disbanded, Secretary A. J. Shenk declared Saturday he is hopeful that some of its equipment may be secured.

"We will enlist aid of the defunct county organization, but should we secure nothing but information gathered from its years of experience, we will have gained a great deal," Shenk said.

Glen Rule, Van Wert-co farm agent, was to attend Friday night, but he failed to show up.

MANY EXPECTED TO SEEK AUDITOR JOB AT DELPHOS

Battle for the city auditor's job in Delphos will be three-cornered if all possible candidates being talked about should file their declarations of intention.

A. E. Weger, auditor before the present incumbent, W. H. Shaffer, will again be a candidate, it is rumored. Shaffer, who served three consecutive terms, may be out again, according to his statement Saturday, and James Clawson is expected to file.

PLAN TO ERECT BRIDGES OVER CREEK IN CITY PARK

Beautification of a small creek in the Delphos city park is sought by promoters who have the work under way. Several small iron bridges will be bought from township trustees if possible, according to Dr. D. G. Maurer, secretary of the Kiwanis club.

Erection of the rustic bridges is desired, but it is believed necessary to secure something more substantial. Weeds which have been allowed to grow along the creek banks will be cut.

PRIEST APPOINTED

Rev. Hilary S. Weger, of Delphos, who read his first mass at St. John's church in the neighboring city May 27, has been appointed by Bishop Samuel Stritch, Toledo, as assistant to Rev. Father Haupt, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Toledo.

PAVING PROJECTS TO BE REVIVED

Delphos Council Faces Prospect of Further Legislation.

Delphos paving matters which have been up in the air for several months will be revived at the meeting of council Tuesday night, according to W. H. Shaffer, clerk.

Paving of an alley midway between Main-st and Washington-st and extending from the Pennsylvania Railroad to Third-st, will be considered, as well as improvement of E. Fourth-st from Main-st to lot 28 east of Flat Fork Creek.

Resolutions have been introduced declaring the improvements necessary, but further legislation will not be adopted until it is possible to define the extent of the projects, according to the clerk.

Other paving rumors have been in the air. A movement is on for improvement of E. Fifth-st, but it is doubtful, according to officials, if anything else besides the present program will be attempted this year.

Codification of traffic regulations may be discussed Tuesday night. Local laws may be merged with new traffic regulations adopted by the Ohio general assembly, deriving a code under which every kind of traffic problem may be taken care of.

City finances will occupy a portion of the time of the city dads.

DELPHOS SCOUT LEADERS TO SEEK SITE FOR CAMP

A committee of Delphos boy scout leaders will seek a site Sunday afternoon for a camping place where the two troops of the city will encamp soon.

The committee, headed by H. R. Hick, will make a trip to various locations south of Lima. It is probable, scout leaders say, one of the many vantage points on the banks of Lewisstown reservoir will be chosen.

Interest in the proposed camping trip was increased among local scouts Saturday when they saw two auto-loads of scouts from Parkersburg, West Virginia, stop in Delphos a short time while en route to Chicago, where they will encamp near Lake Michigan.

DELPHOS K. C. MEMBERS WILL VISIT COLDWATER

Five speakers will be on the program when Delphos Council, Knights of Columbus, visits Coldwater for an inter-city meeting Tuesday night, according to plans of Lecturer D. J. Clark, to whom will be assigned the task of presiding over the evening's entertainment.

Dr. D. G. Maurer will deliver the principal address of the evening, on "Columbianism." Short addresses will be given by Rev. Philip Schirtz, Ft. Jennings, and Arthur Lindeman, Rev. A. J. Bishop and A. J. Laudick, Delphos.

The K. of C. quartette will sing. Joseph March is on the program for several solos.

CONSCIENCE HURTS

A news story published in The Lima News pricked the conscience of the person who stole flowers from several graves in St. John's cemetery and paused him to return them.

Effect of the news story, which appeared Wednesday, was noted Saturday when it was found that geraniums which had been uprooted were returned and laid beside the graves.

STREET INTERSECTION PAVING IS PROJECTED

Paving of the intersection of S. Main and Clime-st is seen as a possibility by Delphos councilmen. H. S. McLeod, manager of the Delphos Bonding Co., has asked extension of the pavement from the north side of Clime-st to the south side.

There is nothing in the legislation governing paving of S. Main-st which would prohibit improvement of the intersection, according to Clerk W. H. Shaffer. The legislation reads "from the Pennsylvania Railroad to Clime-st," not specifying the north or south side of the intersection as the southern termination.

Excavation work on the street will be started soon and unless some unforeseen difficulty arises the pavement will be extended 50 feet to cover the intersection which is declared to be an important means of ingress and egress at the plant.

ROBBER SUSPECT IN OHIO CITY JOB IS RELEASED

William Bell, Terre Haute, was released from custody Saturday afternoon at Van Wert after a hearing in connection with robbery of the L. J. Rutledge store, Ohio City, a week ago. He was arrested in Elgin with F. J. Allfree, of Chicago, on suspicion.

Allfree is still held. More information on him will be sought in Chicago before disposition is made of his case, according to the sheriff's office.

Information on Bell indicated he has a police record in Terre Haute, having been sentenced to various institutions for robbery. He was confined in the Indiana reformatory and later in the state prison at Michigan City.

Bell was able to prove an alibi. He alleges he left Ohio City with Allfree before the robbery was committed.

Five hundred dollars in cash and checks was taken from the store when a safe was blown. The checks were later found by boys in a sewer when hunting a lost ball.

RESIDENCE ROBBED

Thieves who entered the home of Mrs. Edna Parson, Van Wert, Friday night, are believed to have taken advantage of an open window. A pocketbook containing $5.65 was stolen. No clues were found.

DEPUTY ON VACATION

Miss Mary Rampe, deputy in the probate court office at Ottawa, enjoyed a vacation the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rampe. During her absence Miss Summers, daughter of Probate Judge H. M. Summers, served as deputy.

BODY IS FOUND IN MYSTERY GRAVE

But 'Twas Only a Dog, Killed To Evade Tax

Mystery, in all the ramifications of its puzzling nature, set the neighborhood agog in the vicinity of Hartshorn cemetery, near the Auglaize river east of Delphos, it was reported Saturday night.

A dead made by J. B. Bryan, Delphos caretaker at cemetery, caused it all. While working about the place he discovered what seemed to be a newly made grave near the road. It was freshly sodded and two stones had been placed at one end.

Bryan, Jay Truesdale and Clifford Long, the latter two being summoned to the scene, surmised that a band of gypsies seen in the neighborhood the day previous had buried a babe there. After a few preliminaries, necessary because of the uncertainty surrounding the "grave," action was begun.

They started digging. Soon a wooden box was unearthed. The supposition that it was a babe was strengthened.

They tore off a portion of the top. Encased in a bundle of newspapers was something wrapped in a cloth. Inside the cloth was something wrapped in oilecloth.

With foreboding, they slowly unwrapped the last covering, and there—

A pit "terrier" somebody had killed the dog and buried it to escape buying it a license tag.

STRONG HICKSVILLE TEAM PLAYS AT DELPHOS TODAY

With a record of three wins and three defeats to its credit, the Delphos American Legion ball club will swing into action Sunday afternoon against the powerful Hicksville nine, which has been set down only once this season in five starts. It will be the opening of athletic relations between the two towns and will probably result in a series.

According to reports drifting Delphosward, Hicksville carries "Lefty" Gilbert, former demon moundman for Delphos, on its roster. Gilbert is a finger de luxe with a southpaw wallop that knocks even the best batters look like a flapper's complexion after a rain, it is declared.

Manager Glenn Shrider will use the same lineup he employed against Celina Sunday, and it is whispered that he is about to uncover a new sensation, a flash unquelled. Identity of this star is still kept under Shrider's hat.

FEDERAL COURT HAS BIG GRIST FOR THE WEEK-END

Fifty-two arraignments were made Saturday in the court of Federal Judge Elliott at Toledo, according to Deputy U. S. Marshal Robert Edwards, who returned to Delphos for the week end after his first in the federal service.

Cases of ten or 12 residents of Minster, Auglaize-co, were disposed of. Penalties ranged from $100 fines and five-month sentences in the Dayton workhouse to $1,000 fines and longer terms in the "works."

Penalties were inflicted in 30 of the cases. The other 22 were remanded to jail under bond, Edwards states.

Lima Fans Like Joe Egan

Seniors of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., have voted Henry Penfield, football star, the most shapely athlete on the campus. And the most popular fellow, too.

Lima boxing fans have a real treat in store for them when Frankle Brown of New York, conqueror of champions, meets Jake Gross, of Lima, in a 12-round encounter, here on June 25.

Brown has been fighting for eight years and in that time has been in 208 fights. He has met Pete Herman, Kid Williams, Joe Burman, Jack Wolfe, Johnny Kilbane, Matt Brock, Jimmy Frazzetti, Harry Kid Brown, Tony Zill, Frankie Britt, Lew Edwards, K. O. Mars and a number of other first rate leather pushers.

Sporting writers have given evidence to the Lima boxing Commission that Brown is a real fighter. One said that he saw him knock Johnny Kilbane all over the ring in Philadelphia in 1919 in a no-decision bout.

Gross will not start active work for about 19 days, as he has been operated on following an attack of tonsillitis. He will do a week of active work just before the fight and will spend next week at Lakeview, fishing and getting lots of rest. Earl Smith, his manager, will go with him. A ring will be constructed this week at Murphy-st park and Gross will do his training out there. The fight will be an open-

GROSS WANTED
Gross has been sought by Munda for a bout with Micker O'Dowd on July 4; by Canton to fight Tod Smith on the same date; Barberton to mix with Ames and Kokomo for a fight with O'Dowd. It is probable that Red Young, one of the semi-minimalists on the card here June 25, will fight as a headliner in Kokomo, Ind., on July Fourth.

A few months back Young was knocking opponents right and left!

and rapidly climbing towards the top of the welter heap. His peculiar style, flashy right hand and crushing left won many fights in a round or two. He was on the verge of being matched with Cowboy Padgett and Al Walters—then something happened.

Young lost the snap in that wicked left hand. He lost his ability to grab and hook with his right. In fact he lost about everything that he had and his big matches went overboard.

After the Howie match Red went to work in a boiler factory. He had been his mistake and was out to redeem himself. Three months of hard work has put him in wonderful condition. Two weeks of boxing with fast sparring partners will give him the speed. Seven more

So when the fans go out to the Murphy-st ball park they will see new Red Young. A man who is making his work seriously for the first time in his life. Young is after those big matches he lost and the curses that go with them.

WHOLE FORD LINE DEMAND ABROAD

DETROIT, Mich., — Everywhere abroad there is an increasing demand for products of the Ford Motor Company and it includes the whole Ford line, Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors.

During the first four months of the year foreign sales of Ford Cars and Trucks reached a total of 76,142. This is 34,833 more than were sold in the same period a year ago.

In the same months, Fordson Tractor sales mounted to 4,534, more than twice those of last year when 1,894 Fordsons were sold in foreign markets.

An outstanding feature is the remarkable demand for Ford Products in the Scandinavian countries. All through Denmark, Norway and Sweden sales are showing an unprecedented increase and motor transportation in these countries is making greater strides forward than ever before.

In Belgium too, there is an unusual demand for Fords. The picturesque Belgian horse and cart is rapidly giving way to the Ford One-ton truck for commercial and agricultural interests in Belgium now are keenly awake to the advantages and economy of this means of transportation and are now turning to it in surprisingly increasing numbers.

LINCOLN PRODUCT INCREASING

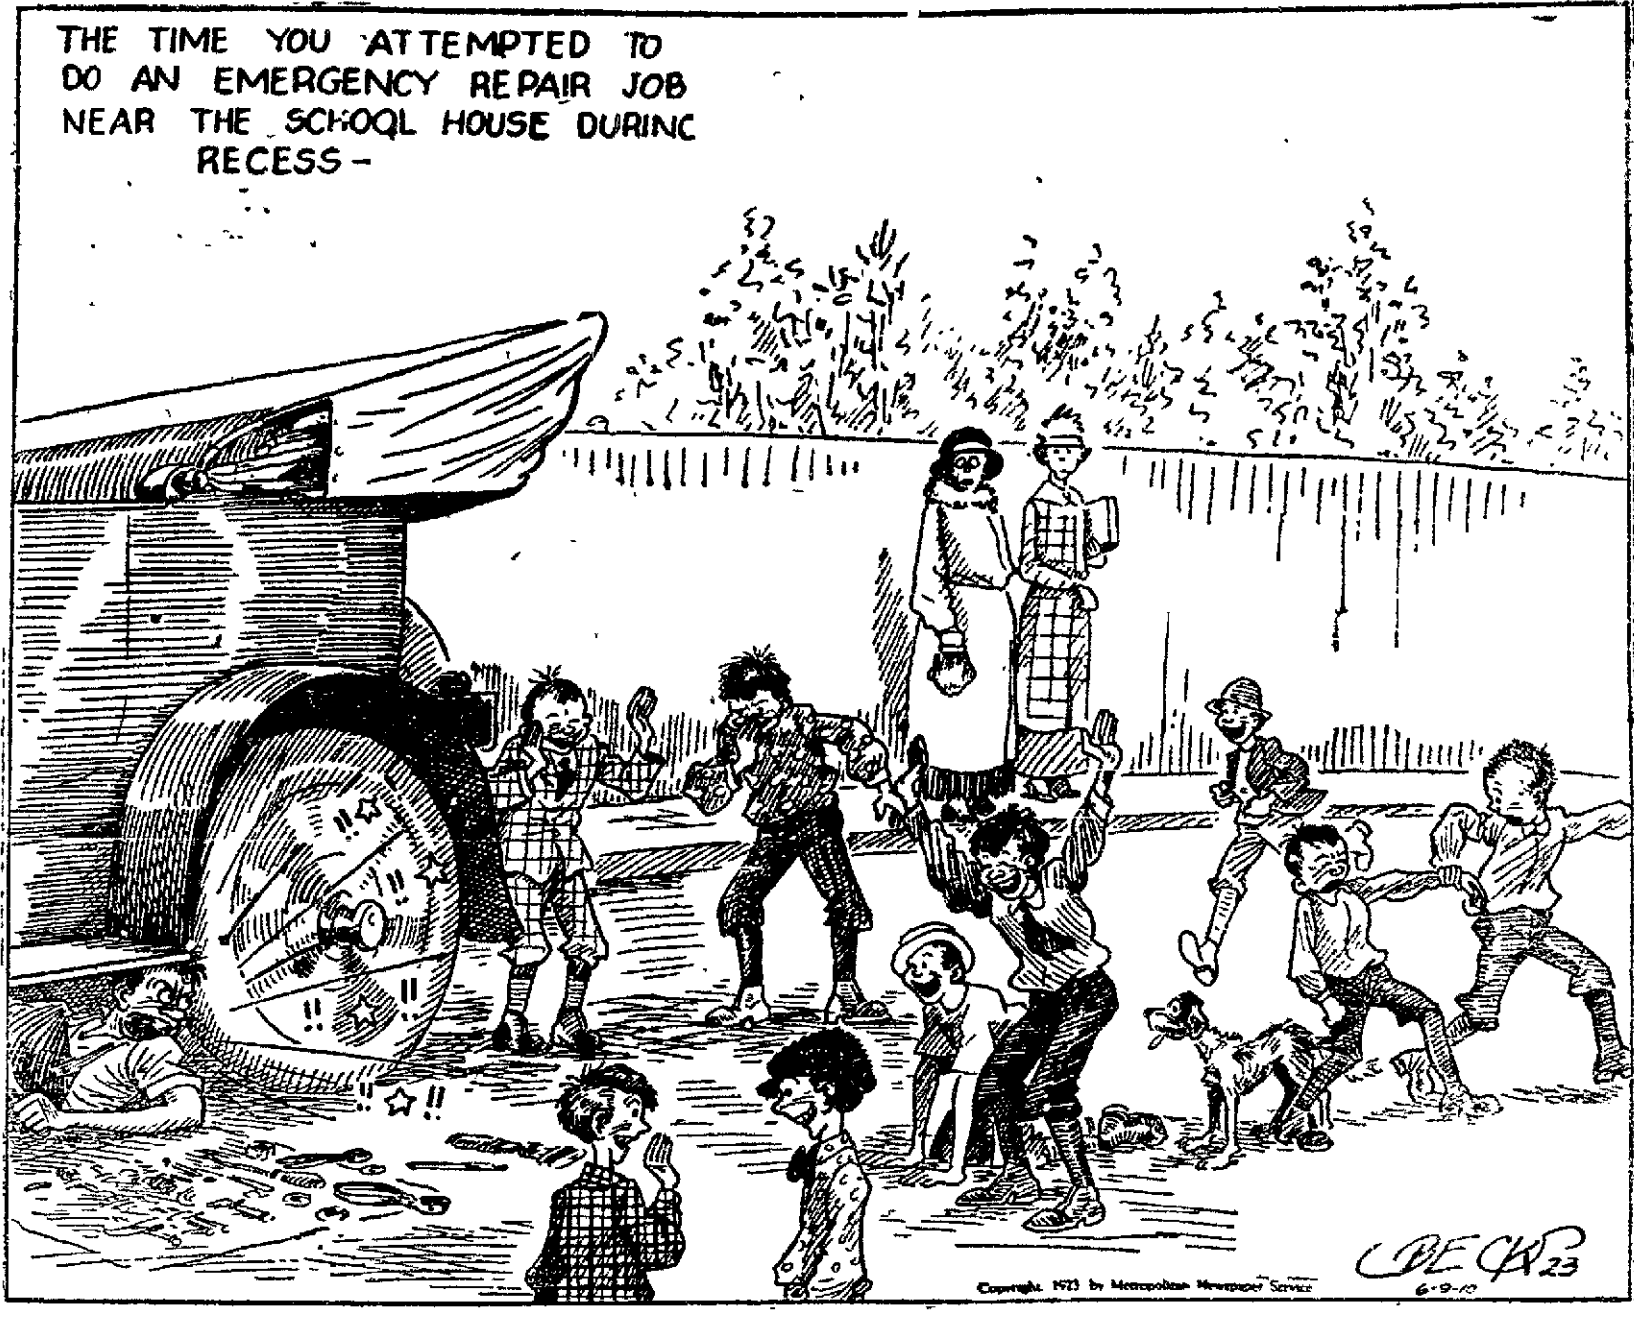

The Lincoln Products Company of Chicago, manufacturers of Lincoln Shock Absorbers have announced that their sales have shown a material increase since the first of the year.

"We are getting the same reports from all over the country," said E. C. Cuthard, President. "The strength and simplicity of Lincoln construction appeals both to the car owner and to the man in the garage who puts these absorbers on the car."

Quick-action is one important feature of Lincoln Shock Absorbers that has been a big factor in their rapidly increasing success. Not

"The big business we did last year—selling 50,000 sets of Lincolns in nine months' time, is bound to look insignificant by comparison with 1923 sales, at the end of the year, to judge by the flying start we have taken. We now have greatly enlarged our manufacturing facilities and we are able to meet this steadily mounting demand."

No other tire is made in this way!

MILLER Tires and Tubes are made from the same rubber that goes into Miller's world standard surgical supplies and rubber sundries. In the initial preparation, the workmen do not know whether they are mixing rubber for tires or for the most delicate rubber goods on earth. They only know that every ounce of rubber must be as nearly perfect as man can make it!

That's why you seldom see a Miller Geared-to-the-Road Cord with a worn-out tread. The live, tough surgeon's grade rubber resists the wear of travel and gives you positive traction throughout the long life of Miller Cords. Fills the Hood

The Stutz Six engine packs the hood; yet owners unceasingly report 16 to 20 miles per gallon! It is an engine which pours forth full 75 H. P. at a touch of your toe—or purrs inaudibly at 1 mile an hour. Never in the whole limitless range is there a tremor or hesitance.

Ample pressure oil-bathing for ever part makes wear remote. Such far-reaching engine proficiency can occur only in a car built like the Stutz, for those appreciative of motor car finesse and high rank. Yet the first cost makes this by all odds America's most prudently priced quality six.

Standard of the World

Two vital facts explain the deep-rooted preference for V-type 90° eight-cylinder Cadillac.

First, Type 61 Cadillac is singled out from other cars by its dependability—by mechanical superiorities so great that the factory has never had to replace a single eight-cylinder engine.

The second fact is that Cadillac, instead of selling for more, actually sells for less than any car which has a valid claim to comparison with it.

Thus contrary to usual custom, the automobile which the majority of people have selected as the finest and best is also the lowest priced in its field.

The two facts of Cadillac preference can, indeed, be reduced to the one word, value.

The Cadillac has won and held public preference for the simple reason that people are convinced that it gives more, for less, than any other fine car in the world.

BOY WAITING TO WEAR CROWN

Otto, Son of Late King Charles May Some Day Rule Hungary

PEOPLE CLAMOR FOR KING

Ancient Crown of St. Stephen Real Ruler in Nation

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
BUDAPEST—(Special)—A little 10-year-old boy is waiting over in Spain to be king of Hungary.

Here, on the Buda side of the Danube, triple-locked in a chrome steel vault and guarded night and day by stalwart Magyar soldiers, is the thousand-year-old crown of St. Stephen, in keeping against the day when the little boy—or shall it be another?—will come to claim it.

The little boy is Otto, a Hapsburg of the ill-fated Austrian line, son of the unfortunate late King Charles who died in exile after an unsuccessful attempt to remount his throne.

His mother is Queen Zita, and his father is the late Emperor Charles.

Here in Hungary the people are impatiently waiting to have a king. It is not a question of will they have a king but of when they may have one for Hungary.

The failure of Charles to win back to Budapest from his exile in Spain, was not due to his not being wanted. It was merely that his return at this time was not opportune. The government here knew that with a Hapsburg king back on the throne, trouble would descend upon Hungary.

It is claimed here that Hungary's neighbors had already mobilized for the frontier, ready to invade the country if Charles's coup succeeded.

Hungary is not thinking of electing a king just now. She is trying to keep body and soul together. So, having declared herself a constitutional monarchy, and installed a regent to "protect" the kingdom until they can name a king in peace, the people are just waiting.

Meantime the Crown of St. Stephen is the real ruler in Hungary. It is more than an ordinary crown to the Hungarians. It was handed down from the first king of Hungary a thousand years ago, from St. Stephen, the apostolic, so crowned by the Pope of Rome.

Whoever wears the crown is regarded by many as the real and lawful ruler of Hungary, just because he has worn the crown. He may not deserve it. He may not be the people's choice. But the magical crown has rested on his head. So the proper ruler of the Hungarians he must be.

King Charles once wore the crown of St. Stephen. He was a Hapsburg and the Hapsburgs for centuries oppressed the Magyars and persecuted them. During all this time the princes of Transylvania, stronghold of the Hungarians, were their leaders and defenders.

So Otto, the blue-eyed, golden-haired boy of 10, is today regarded as the legitimate successor to the crown of St. Stephen because his father, Charles, once wore it.

PALACE AWARDS KING
A retainer of King Charles showed me thru the magnificent royal palace on the hill dominating Buda and the Danube. Bunch of jangling keys in hand, the old man opened door after door, leading into shuttered and silent salons where 1,500 guests might dance without crowding, into darkened halls of ambassadors, the throne room, the apartments of Empress Elizabeth and Emperor Franz-Josef, into secret retreats in case of attack; across vast expanses of exquisite wood, marble, tiled floors and under chandeliers of burnished gold and silver, and domes lofty as a cathedral's. Suddenly he paused before a life-size painting of a little boy in national Hungarian costume, resting on the floor and leaning against the wall. We were in the "Hapsburg Room."

"Otto," said the old man. "He'll be king one day."

And we moved on.
KING IS CERTAIN

But it is not certain. To be eligible for king of Hungary, one must be 35 years old. Otto is only eight years of age. Much can happen in eight years in a country like Hungary in a continent like Europe.

Some say Admiral Nicholas von Borthy, regent, would like to wear the crown of St. Stephen. If he would, he is behaving most tactfully about it, for he even refuses to occupy the vacant royal quarters, let alone appropriate the crown. Others say a Hungarian, one of the Transylvanian line, not a Hapsburg and not a mere admiral, should be elected.

Time and events, however, will bring a king to Hungary.

RECORD BROKEN BY STUDEBAKER

When the whistles of the mammoth Studebaker plants at South Bend and Detroit sounded on the evening of May 29 and 30,000 Studebaker employees started homeward, a new record for a single day's production and shipments had been made, for on that day 780 Studebaker cars were forwarded to Studebaker dealers throughout the country. Of the total, 189 were driven overland.

This record represents a single day's production and was achieved without permitting cars to accumulate purposely to establish a new mark. The only extra incentive involved was an effort to more adequately meet the insistent demand from every section of the country for more Studebakers, but this is a daily endeavor because of the thousands of unfilled orders on hand for immediate shipment.

While the production of 780 cars in one day establishes a record for Studebaker, the total is only a little above regular, daily shipments since the additional facilities provided by seven new Studebaker factories built and completed and manned early this Spring, reached capacity production. Although Studebaker's present output is 15,000 cars a month or at the rate of 150,000 cars annually, the demand is far in excess of production and additional factory facilities, begun this Spring and to cost $2,000,000, are being rushed to completion.

Studebaker manufactures six-cylinder cars exclusively, in three models—the Big Six, Special Six and the Light Six—which are offered in twelve body types. 780 cars in one day, therefore, represents the biggest day's shipment of six-cylinder cars ever made by any manufacturer.

The increasing popularity of Studebaker cars, which is a subject of common conversation even outside of the automobile industry, is attested by the yearly record of production and sales. In 1918 Studebaker sold 23,864 cars. The following year sales increased to a total of 29,356 cars. In 1920 sales mounted to 51,474 cars.

"There are a number of reasons for the universal popularity of Studebaker cars," according to Mr. Hawisher, local Studebaker dealer. "But chiefly:

"(1) Because of their quality, durability and dependable performance in owners' use.

"(2) Because by manufacturing sixes exclusively on a large scale and by building all vital parts in its own plants, Studebaker can effect economies and save the middlemen's profits, and thereby provide maximum value and quality at a low price.

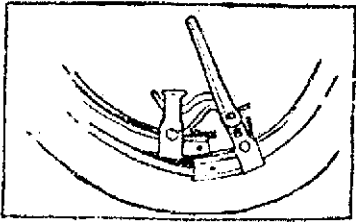

"(3) Because, in the three models of Studebaker cars we have a car of the exact size, style and price to suit every buyer.

"(4) Because with $35,000,000 of actual net assets, including $45,000,000 of plant facilities, Studebaker stands unsurpassed in ability and resources to manufacture economically and give the greatest intrinsic value possible for a given price.

"(5) Because of the name Studebaker, which for 71 years, has stood for high grade transportation, integrity, quality, value and comfort."

RIM COLLAPSE

Of the many forms of rim tools on the market, this one shown is the latest and one of the simplest. Grasping the rim at each side of the split, it collapses the rim by a sort of lever and eccentric movement, and holds it in the collapsed position. Reversing the movement, stretches the rim into place.

N. Y. CITY BUYS WHITE TRUCKS

The city of New York has placed another large order for motor trucks with the White Company, the contract calling for two hundred power dumping units, since the first of these cars the city has also purchased a number of other models. The purchase of 160 trucks will go into the service of the street cleaning department and as they will be used mainly for the collection of rubbish will be equipped with manually raised bodies. The bodies which will be of a combination steel and wood paneled type, will have a capacity of 14 cubic yards. The complete order of 160 trucks will be delivered within 150 days.

The new order recall the record purchase of 212 White 5-ton power dumping trucks in 1920 and the subsequent purchase in 1922 of 128 more Whites of the same type. New York city is by far the largest municipality, the city's White fleet alone totaling 551 trucks.

Insurance statisticians report $5,000,000 was paid out for burned cars in 1922.

More than $6,000,000,000 has been spent by the federal government for improved roads.

Motor trucks hauled almost as much freight as the railroads in 1921.

PRODUCE TIRE FOR REDUCED AIR

More than three years ago the engineers of the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing company, of Dayton, Ohio, thought that at some time in the future the tire industry would have to assume the obligation of making a tire that could be run underinflated.

Automobiles have been materially improved within the past few years, in ways that give the user of the automobile greater service and more value for his money, but the only improvements in tires have been that they would deliver more miles if kept at a high air pressure.

In commenting on this Mr. John A. MacMillan, president of the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing company, has this to say:

"We faced the problem in this way. After all, what is the purpose of a tire? What should a pneumatic tire do for the user of an automobile?"

"In the first place it must have great shock-absorbing qualities. A highly inflated tire, as a matter of fact, increases the road shock and vibrations instead of diminishing them, so that a highly inflated tire does not accomplish its true purpose.

"Another purpose of a tire is to keep the car from skidding, and everyone knows that a highly inflated tire skids readily and adds to the danger of motorizing.

"Therefore, our problem was a very definite one. We recognized that a tire would never do the things that it was intended and designed to do unless it were built so that it would deliver its maximum service when underinflated, and would stand up under reduced air pressure.

"So, several years ago, we started to build a tire for this purpose. The problem was a very difficult one. Instead of depending upon high air pressure to maintain the proper balance of strength, we had to build a tire that would not develop weaknesses under the increased stress of 20 per cent or 30 per cent deflection.

"We studied all types of tire construction. We brought all the engineering skill and mechanical ability that was available into the solving of this problem. We tested all sorts of fabrics and rubber compounds, all widths of tread, all types of reinforcements and all sorts of bead construction.

"We had to overcome three major weaknesses which always developed when a tire was underinflated—rim cut, tread separation and bulging of the fabric, any of which would ruin a tire in a short time.

"We built hundreds of test tires. We found that in practically all types of construction a tire when deflected 20 per cent would bend sharply at the edge of the bead reinforcement and that it would bulge immediately behind the edge of the tread.

"Our goal was reached when we finally built a tire which would assume the form of an ideal curve when deflected 20 per cent. This meant that there were no unequal stresses and that the force exerted by the weight of the car was being evenly distributed thruout the whole tire without strains or stresses at any point.

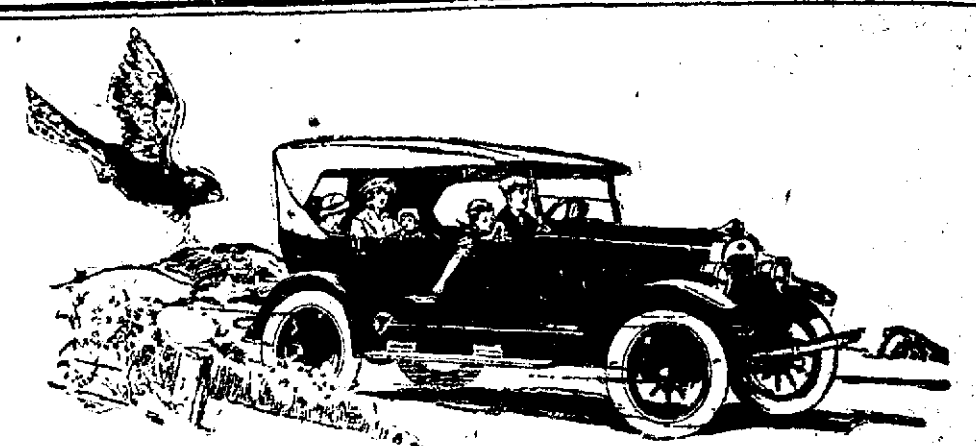

"After having satisfied ourselves that this type of construction was correct it was necessary for us to invest more than $2,000,000 in machinery and equipment in order to build it. And so accurately and carefully must this tire be built that inspection had to be doubled and the training of employees has become an important part of our business.

"A very important fact in connection with this tire is that, while it may be run 25 per cent under standard S. A. E. inflation without fear of damage, it may also be run with equal safety, so far as durability is concerned, inflated equal to or over the standard S. A. E.; in other words the tire is "foolproof" under a wide range of inflation."

Making highways less tiring to drivers' eyes by painting them a soothing color is the suggestion made in England.

United States has spent between fifteen and twenty billion dollars for autos and trucks in the last 15 years.

Breaks Three Records in Winning Famous Economy Run for the Second Time

Oakland wins again! Shattering all previous records—a stock Oakland Six won both Sweepstakes and Class Cups—for the second consecutive time—in the annual Los Angeles to Camp Curry Economy Run under the supervision of the A. A. A.

Thirteen other makes of cars, including lighter four-cylinder cars, yielded to the Oakland Six's phenomenal record of 65.17 ton-miles—36.92 actual miles per gallon! Never before in an official contest has a motor car traveled 360 miles—up steep mountain grades and over all kinds of roads—on only 9.75 gallons of gasoline.

Here is the Official A. A. A. Record

Class	Miles	Gallons	Miles per Gallon	Ton Miles
Oakland Six	4-B 360	9.75	36.92	65.17

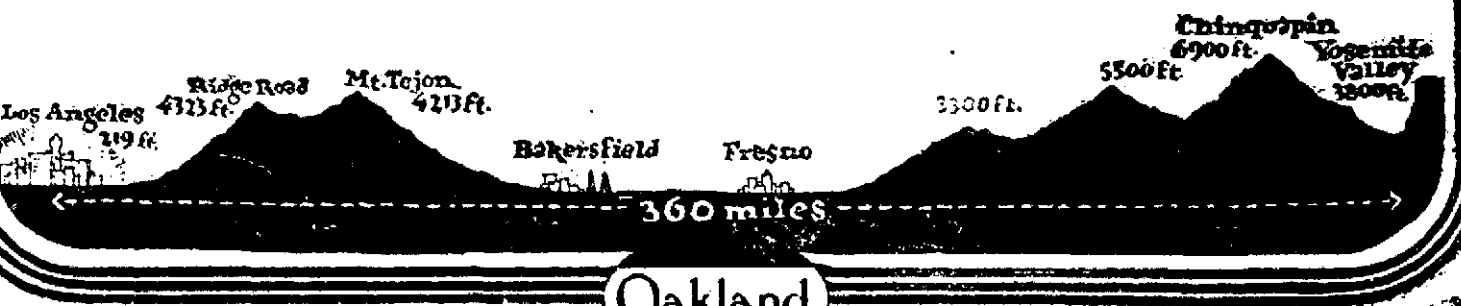

Commenting on Oakland's splendid victory, the Los Angeles Express said: "Repeating with a double victory this year, the Oakland Six demonstrated its consistent economical qualities—a degree of efficiency in fuel consumption, lubrication and cooling that writes a new chapter in the history of Economy and Endurance Contests."

Do you wonder that Oakland can definitely prove the superior quality of its car on the basis of "known mileage." Buy consistent economy—buy proved performance—buy known mileage! You can get all of these things only in the Oakland—the car built by a division of General Motors to be the finest light-six.

MILLION RISK ON RICKENBACKER

Captain Rickenbacker can now realize his long-cherished ambition to conserve time by "making the territory" in an airplane, instead of what he regards as a "poky-slow express train."

As director of Sales of the concern which bears his name, the famous Ace of Aces has long chafed at the restrictions put upon him by the other members of his own organization, and by the insurance companies.

While he considers an airplane actually safer than any other mode of travel except a steamboat—and proves his contention by statistics showing the millions of passenger-miles flown with a negligible number of accidents in co. mercial flying—President B. F. Everitt believes the Company is taking too great a risk when it permits so important a member of the organization to use this means of making his trips from city to city.

To offset, in some degree, this risk the company has been trying for some time to get an insurance policy of one million dollars, which would, partially at least, compensate the Company for such a serious loss.

The company has been able to carry a large policy on the Captain's life, but always the insurance companies have inserted a proviso that withheld the policy and cancelled its conditions the minute Rickenbacker stepped into an airplane.

Lee Thomas of Detroit, one of the most indefatigable specialists in the insurance business, has kept pounding at the insurance companies on this subject, presenting them with statistics furnished him by Captain Rickenbacker and gathered from other sources.

He finally announces that Lloyds of London, England, will take the policy of one million dollars on Captain Rickenbacker, such policy to cover accident or death in the case of flying—only.

The premium is a little stiff—$5,000 per year—but Captain Rickenbacker insists that it is a small item by comparison with the tremendous amount of time and money that will be saved by covering the territory in a direct route "as the crow flies" and at the rate of one hundred miles an hour instead of forty, which is the average of the fastest express trains.

"Time is the essence of everything," says Rickenbacker, "and as a vital thing for the business man nowadays is to be in as many different places as possible in a given space of time."

"So far as the element of chance concerned, I consider that there is far more danger on congested roads in an automobile, or some train than misinterpreting a dispatcher's signal, than there is in an airplane. The pilot knows his ship and is not given to stunt flying."

CLITCH PEDAL LOCK

Merely boring a hole thru the clutch pedal and snapping a lock in it, the owner can feel safe in leaving his car. The pedal can't be let out, nor can the floor board be removed to circumvent the lock.

FEATURE CADILLAC IN SHRINE MEET

In the gathering of a half-million persons into the city of Washington for the forty-ninth annual Shrine convention, June 5, 6 and 7, the leading physical factor was transportation.

Indicative of the great throngs expected, ten thousand guests were already recorded at the Capital ten days before the beginning of the convention, and predictions then were that the daily arrivals would double and treble until the last day before the opening.

Two hundred railway traffic experts had been assigned to the task of moving the pilgrim hosts. In addition to running all regular trains to capacity, 200 special trains, of ten cars each, were scheduled to arrive in Washington between the night of June 2 and the morning of June 5. Seventy-six of these were accommodated at the Union station, the remainder being drawn to parking spaces outside.

On the road from New York City to Washington dummy Shriners riding truck-carried camels created a sensation; while Sphinxes and other Egyptian fixtures, which were later featured in floats on the historic Pennsylvania avenue, created wonderment.

From Detroit was shipped the official car for the use of the Imperial Potentate, James S. McCandless, and his committee. It is a standard Cadillac seven-passenger touring car finished in snow white and gold, and marked to indicate its honored mission. The running gear and metal parts are finished to match.

The carriage has a white pantasote top, and both the heading of the top and the seat covers are of the finest grade of pure white wool serge. The white painted tire carrier holds a tire covered with pure white kid leather ornamented with gold braid.

On each of the tonneau doors is painted in gold and crimson the Shrine emblem, the work of Max Schwartz, monogram painter, while the front doors carry in plain block letters of gold, the legend, Imperial Potentate, James S. McCandless.

The radiator shell, lights, hub caps and similar parts are finished in nickel. A special radiator cap carrying the Shrine emblem is illuminated with ornamental lights. A band of red, yellow and green, the Shrine colors, runs diagonally across the hood above the engine.

The vanguard of the pilgrimage to the Mecca of Shrinedom was organized May 3 with the movement of motor car of the first Transcontinental Shrine Caravan from the Pacific coast. This was the beginning of the eastward exodus from beyond the Rockies. For two weeks prior to the opening of the

HUDSON - ESSEX IN DEMAND

The Hudson and Essex Coaches meet a universal demand," says D. M. Clevenger, local Hudson-Essex dealer. "Motorists have turned decisively to the closed car. They want the year-round comfort and distinction which the closed car gives. Yet they also want to keep the lively road performance which they have known in the open car."

"The Coach is a new type that satisfies both demands. It offers the protection and comfort of the closed car in all weathers, and has all the activity of the Hudson and Essex touring models.

"It will take you anywhere you want in an open car—and with equal satisfaction. It is attractive and reliable. Its price advantage, you cannot ignore. For little more than the open car cost it presents the details of a fine closed car."

"The interior seating arrangement of the Essex Coach is unique and gives excellent riding qualities. Weight is evenly distributed over the chassis between the axles—the ideal location. The larger, deep seats give ample passenger room, with comfort for all."

"The top material is a specially prepared coated textile, known to be the best for the purpose it serves. It is used because it will withstand temperature changes without cracking or checking, and retain its new appearance. Hudson and Essex, as well as many high grade custom-built body manufacturers have used a similar material for years, and its appearance, as seen on cars—after six or more years of service, proves its worthiness as an ideal all-around top material."

"The difference that single out Hudson and Essex for the high praise of all motorists are not merely in vastly superior performance. The vital aspects of their advantage to you are seen only in long, hard service. There are basic reasons why Hudson and Essex preserve smooth performance and continue to serve reliably and economically. They are chiefly to be found in the way they are built."

STUTZ BROKEN IN AT PLANT

Of all the experiences of motor-ing, that of breaking in a new car is probably fraught with least pleasure. The dread of injuring a "green" car thru overspeed or overstrain, and the consequent necessity of crawling along the first thousand miles or so at the seeming snail's pace of twenty miles an hour, has robbed millions of motorists of their initial enjoyment.

Refreshing relief, therefore, is presented in the novel policy inaugurated by the Stutz Motor Car Company of America, Inc., not to release a Stutz car for shipment until it has been completely run in, ready for the road.

To accomplish this result, enabling any Stutz owner to obtain complete service and enjoyment from his car, the minute he takes the wheel, a testing program is pursued that is with parallel in motor car history.

Triple testing tersely describes the elaborate system of trial and inspection that fits Stutz cars for immediate, unlimited service, from the time they leave the shipping platform.

First, the component parts of the chassis are individually tested thru special means before assembly, particularly attention being given the engine and rear axles, as units subject to greatest strain. Engine bearings, pistons and cylinders are lapped to a perfect fit thru power applied by high speed electric motors. After final assembly, they are subjected to the same process for sustained periods, this time under the engine's own power. Similarly, the axles are run in a special device called an axometer, stationed in a sound proof room. Only after both engines and axles have undergone service in preliminary testing equivalent to hundreds of miles on the road, are they released for incorporation in the Stutz chassis.

While in the chassis stage, the second phase of Stutz testing is conducted, in the form of extensive road trials calculated to search out the slightest weakness or imperfection at any point in the assembly. Definite test routes are prescribed, covering every conceivable road and traffic condition encountered in actual service.

Stutz adherence to this practice long discontinued by a majority of motor car manufacturers but now being considered for adoption, since the marked success of the Stutz program, is a time-tried heritage of the painstaking methods that gained for Stutz international racing supremacy. In fact, the very group of veterans, headed by G. H. Anderson and Tom Rooney, who achieved the most notable Stutz racing victories, are in complete charge of Stutz testing activity.

The final test, and here again Stutz methods are practically unique, is to send the finished car over the unbroken surface of the Indianapolis motor speedway, at sustained speeds impossible of realization on any roadway.

In this concluding stage of Stutz testing, cars must demonstrate ability to hold a speed of 70 miles an hour for an indefinite period, without overheating or strain. With the successful culmination of this

PAIGE COMFORT TO DRIVE

The Paige is the national touriste car claims Mr. Huber, local dealer. Sust arrangement and construction is largely responsible for this reputation according to the Paige Manager. He cites the curves filling every surface of the human back, supported by Marshall-type springs and deep padding.

"Upholstering in the Paige 6-70 is built on the same principle as that used in the overstuffed lounge now found in the average home," says the Paige Manager. "It is our belief that when a person sits for hours behind a steering wheel or in the tonneau riding at maximum touring speeds they should be even more comfortably seated than in the living room of the home."

Suddenly jamming on the brakes hurts the car.

EXTENDED OIL CAN

A piece of wire attached to the spout of an ordinary oil can makes it reach into otherwise inaccessible places. This is done by fitting a cork into the end of the spout and setting the wire into the cork along-side the spout. When oil comes out, it follows the wire to the outer end.

Use a heavier oil in summer.

JEWETT SIX PAIGE BUILT

This Year-Round Jewett Pleases All the Family

Comfort That Defies Weather—Performance To Be Proud Of

Jewett Sedan is breezy and cool on hot days. All side windows lower, as illustrated. You enjoy all the "openness" of a touring car. In the dusty stretch or sudden storm, raise the windows and you are just as snug and clean as at home. Lock the doors and luggage is safe.

When Jack Frost comes, this Jewett Sedan is doubly prized by all the family. With windows closed tight—they do close tight—you are comfortable on the bitterest days. You will go out oftener, keep in closer touch with your friends, really use your car.

But Jewett Sedan gives more than weather comfort. With the longest springs of any car its size—and costly, deep seat cushions—it defies rough roads. Its rugged construction—Jewett is 200 pounds heavier than comparable cars—gives big car riding ease. It is finished, fitted and built to please and endure. Slam the doors. The sound speaks substantial worth.

Quick Action Brakes

EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

MARKET STRONG AS WEEK ENDS

General Developments Declared to be of Encouraging Nature

RAIL STOCKS AT NEW HIGH

Depression in Industrial Group Also Swept Aside

NEW YORK (United Press)—The most spectacular incident of the week in the financial world was the week-end aggressive demonstration in railroad shares, the most vigorous since last autumn.

The technical condition of the market has been strengthened right at the time when the financial condition would complete a series of favorable factors that would assure an upward market for securities.

As a whole, developments during the past week in the two situations, which have been contributing to the uncertainty in business—domestic forward buying and German reparations—while in the main still inconclusive, have been rather encouraging.

There is no present indication, furthermore, of any recession in activity, consumers being ready to take all deliveries which the mills can make.

JULY WHEAT GOES UP TO $1.11

Crop Report and Unfavorable Weather Bullish Factors

CHICAGO—Bullish aspects of the government crop report, together with heavy damage said to have been done by excessive rains in Kansas and Oklahoma, brought about at the outset a decided advance in wheat prices Saturday.

Cold wet weather as well as wheat strength gave firmness to the corn market. After opening 3-3 to 3-4c higher, July 82 to 82-1-4, corn sagged a little in price, but soon rallied.

Corn followed corn, opening unchanged to 3-4c off, July 42-1-8 and later scored slight gains. Provisions were easy in line with hog values.

CLOSING WHEAT QUOTATIONS were unsettled, 5-8 to 1-4 not higher with July $1.11 3-8 to 1-11 1-3 and September $1.09 3-4 to 1-9 7-8.

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR BRAKES

1. Brakes should be tested each day. Before going half a block from the garage make a service test on a dry spot by throwing out the clutch and applying the brakes. Under no circumstances should the car be taken farther if the brakes are not operating properly. Drive back to the garage and see that the faults are corrected.

2. Automobile brakes have a definite relation to safety. Important points are:

See that a good type of brake lining is used.

Make sure that the brake lining is properly installed.

Keep the brakes in good operating condition.

Make frequent tests for proper brake adjustment.

3. Only an experienced mechanic should install brake linings. He should make certain that the lining is properly stretched to avoid buckling. The rivets should be properly countersunk; otherwise the metal of the rivets will score the brake drum and the brakes may not hold in an emergency.

4. Once a month, remove the rear wheels and wash the brake lining in kerosene. This removes all oil and grease which, if present, take the "bite" out of the brakes. Never oil brake linings.

5. Brakes squeal when they are glazed or when improperly adjusted. Squealing can often be stopped by removing wheels and roughening the brake lining with a file. If the brake lining is worn down to the rivets, sink the rivets still farther or have the brakes relined.

7. Wipe off and oil brake mechanism every 500 miles, or oftener.

8. Make regular systematic brake inspection a habit. The loss of a cotter pin might lead to a serious accident. When a lock washer is removed, don't put it back; use a new one.

9. Keep the brakes adjusted properly. Brakes should not drag; if they do, they will heat up and be worn down unnecessarily. Brakes should not be too loose; loose brakes do not act quickly enough. Different adjustments are made for different types of brakes.

10. After the brakes are adjusted so they are neither too tight or too loose, they should be tested every 500 miles, or at least once a month, to make certain that the braking power is equally divided between the two rear wheels. Many cars skid, not only because of unequal division of braking power, but also because of unequal wear of the wheels. Jack up rear wheels and apply brake far enough so that it is possible to turn one wheel by hand, that the same amount of energy is required to turn that wheel by hand.

GOOD LUBRICATION A NECESSITY

Any motorist who is not properly lubricating his motor equipment is taking power directly away from the engine and wasting it. In addition, the rapid destruction of the machine is being permitted.

This is the essence of a message sent out by the United States Government thru the Geologic Survey, in a public address made by the Director, Dr. George Otis Smith. This finding voices again conclusions reached by lubricating engineers and chemists in the laboratories of the Pure Oil Company, which is constantly working on the problems of lubrication, and seeking the most complete knowledge on the subject.

The officials and experts of the company have for years recognized that the matter of lubrication is really the most vital in connection with efficiency in motor equipment and machinery, with all of the necessities and conveniences it supplies, would be impossible. There is no substitute today. Machinery and motor equipment require, besides power to run them, something that will overcome the operation of any piece of machinery. It is plain, therefore, that to get the maximum power, a lubricant that reduces the friction to the smallest possible degree is vital. A proper lubricant is one which has the capacity of forming a film between the rubbing surfaces of

NASH AUTOMOBILE OUTLOOK GOOD

The general outlook for business during the last six months of the year is decidedly more favorable than it appeared three months ago," says C. W. Nash, president of The Nash Motors Company. "Conditions, in fact, look far better for the last half-year period than I had hoped in March, they would look."

ELECTRIC TRUCKS ARE INTRODUCED

An intensive effort to promote the use of the electric truck for short haul purposes is about to be made throughout the country according to the Annual Report of the Electric Truck and Car Bureau, just made public, by Charles R. Skinner, Jr., Chairman.

In addition to a campaign of publicity and advertising, the Electric Truck and Car Bureau plans to send a qualified transportation engineer to various communities throughout the country to make a first hand analysis of the transportation problems. Each manufacturer is also to have in his employ a competent transportation engineer who will stand ready to cooperate with central electrical stations in rendering the same kind of service.

In at least two communities, schools have been formed to instruct operators, chauffeurs and others how best to care for, operate and maintain the electrical motor truck.

In Chicago, under the immediate direction of the Commonwealth Edison Company, a school for the instruction of owners and operators of electric trucks has been carried on very satisfactorily.

In New York the Automobile Bureau of the New York Edison Company formed a similar school. When the school was proposed it was thought that a class of forty could be secured, but so much interest was aroused that no less than 300 expressed a desire to participate. Of the 300 practically 20 per cent were employed by concerns not at that time using the electric truck.

Recognizing the value of transportation engineering, it was suggested that one of the most effective ways in which the Electric Truck and Car Bureau could function would be to provide a school at which representatives of central station companies could be given instruction on the subject of electric trucks, their field, manufacture, operation, economy, reliability, etc., with a view to creating in central stations, electric truck departments where information and advice would be available.

In order to carry out this plan a Committee with E. Mansfield as chairman, was appointed and details for a school of this kind were worked out. Rapid progress was made due to the unselfishness of the members of the Committee, with the result that the first school was held in New York May 15 to May 26, which will be followed by one in Chicago in June.

Announcements of this school have been sent to all central station executives, briefly outlining the object of the courses, and marked interest is being shown. The lectures were composed after careful research by the most competent authorities in the industry. After the completion of the first two schools it is the desire of the Committee to place copies of the paper in permanent form.

AUTO FUEL FROM WASTE PAPER
LONDON, Eng.—(NEA Service).—Waste paper may save the motorists of the world against high fuel prices!

This possibility is offered thru the discovery of a microbe, by the action of which it is said one ton of waste paper can be made to yield 50 gallons of alcohol suitable as motor fuel. The discoverers are two British chemists, H. Langwell and H. Lloyd Hind.

Thanks to the breweries in this country, even more alcohol can be obtained thru these bacilli. For, say Langwell and Hind, it is found abundantly in the waste hops left over from the brewing process.

Of course, such motor fuel from this source is out of the question in the United States.

NASH AUTOMOBILE OUTLOOK GOOD

The general outlook for business during the last six months of the year is decidedly more favorable than it appeared three months ago," says C. W. Nash, president of The Nash Motors Company. "Conditions, in fact, look far better for the last half-year period than I had hoped in March, they would look."

"Along about March 1, big merchants in practically all lines of business seemed fearful of a general slow-up for the last half of 1923 and as a result they did not overload their shelves with merchandise. Buying was done on a basis of immediate requirements; this was true of the manufacturer as well as of the jobber and retailer."

"The result of this careful policy has been that stocks are low in everybody's hands, a condition that will work to the advantage of the country during the period we are now entering. With low merchandise inventories jobbers and retailers must continue to order goods which of course means that manufacturers must continue to produce their wares. This assures uninterrupted employment, the only basis of sound prosperity which in the past we used to call 'good times'."

"Added to the facts already cited it is encouraging to note that the farmers of the country, as a whole, are in far better condition than they were a few months ago. Reports from practically all sections indicate a healthy condition of crops and excellent work in the matter of financing long since has been accomplished by the Federal Reserve banks, thru local bankers of the country."

"With all of these things in mind, I feel that the automobile business will be good during the second six months of the year. Stocks of cars in the hands of dealers have about been depleted; in fact there are practically no cars of standard make in stock. Automobile dealers are entering the summer period with a clean slate. Demand for cars continues because business conditions in other lines warrants a continuance and factories therefore will be kept busy supplying automobiles. This again means continued employment for hundreds of thousands of men."

"One factor in the automobile industry which is fast gaining in importance is the closed car. A few years ago the enclosed type of automobile constituted only a slight fraction of the industry's annual output, whereas today it has come to the front to such an extent that it is almost of equal importance to the open car in point of sales and consequent production. Demand for closed cars during the late summer and early fall months, I believe, will be greater than ever in the history of the automobile industry."

We are now entering the month of June, the opening month of the second period of the year. Business in June is bound to be good."

A. C. A. TOUR GUIDE READY TO RELEASE

Motorists who are planning vacation tours during the summer months will be pleased to know that the 1923 Associated Tours Guide, official road book compiled and published by The Automobile Club of America, is now ready for distribution.

By following the carefully selected itineraries and clearly defined road maps with which the Guide's 104 pages are filled, summer vacationists are enabled to tour by motor thru the most charming sections of the Eastern United States and Canada to seaside, mountain and country resorts. All tours in the Guide are compiled with a view to scenic charm; the roads mapped are the best stretches of hard highway that the country affords.

For transcontinental motor tourists there is a double page Atlantic to Pacific road map showing the several routes across the United States, accompanied by complete itineraries for this increasingly popular trip. For those visiting the New England country there is a map of the recently adopted road marking system. A large folding road map of the entire country east of Chicago accompanies the Guide.

A feature of the Associated Tours

Guide that motorists particularly appreciate is that the itineraries are arranged to allow for logical stopping places at the end of each day's run at towns where accommodations may be readily secured. Synopsis of State Motor laws, ferry schedules, and lists of good hotels and garages also go to increase the Guide's usefulness to the automobilist.

OAKLAND SELLING POINT-SERVICE

That motor car dealers' service managers should be educated today more along the line of good merchandising maintenance practices to the end that car owners will be better satisfied with both the service itself and the cost of service was the gist of an address made by R. A. Armstrong, service manager of the Oakland Motor Car company at the recent service managers' convention of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in Detroit.

"We have been educating our dealers on the most economical manner of merchandising maintenance on cars," stated Mr. Armstrong, "because we felt that the stress today should be placed on this end of service maintenance. This work of course is supplementary to the educational work carried on to develop better mechanics and to acquaint them with all methods that will enable them to perform more efficiently and economically every repair job."

"Today thruout the country at our main distributing points, dealers' service managers and mechanics are meeting our factory service representatives who conduct schools covering the product from a mechanical standpoint and good business methods. The flat rate system, now almost universal with the stronger companies, is an indication of how maintenance service is being merchandised. Efficient service economically as well as thoroughly and the cutting of overhead to a minimum are what the progressive dealers are stressing today. The car owner benefits mainly thru such a policy and this benefit in turn is reflected back to the dealer and factory."

JEWETT TO REBUILD NEW PLANT

Preliminary work has been completed and the site turned over to the general contractor for a new Jewett plant which will bring production of this automobile up to over 500 daily.

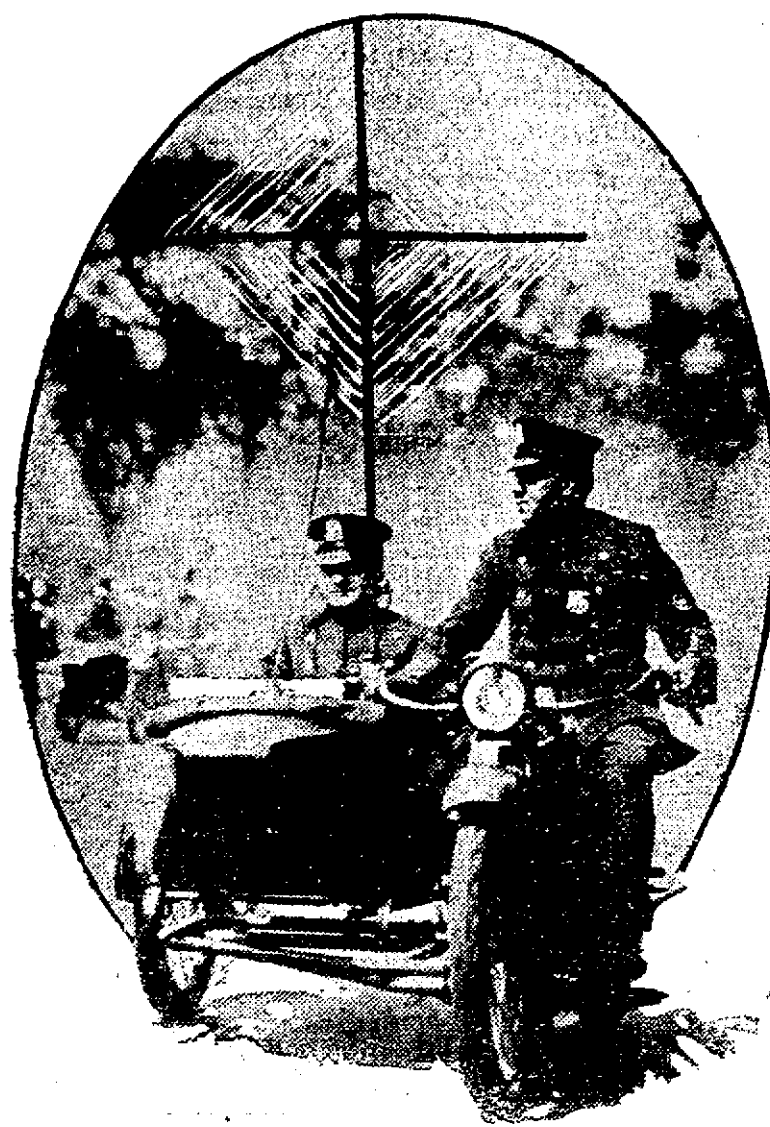

Plans for the new plant, which will be one of the most modern in the city will be announced soon, according to H. M. Jewett, president of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car company, builders of the Jewett. Its location, on West Warren Avenue, adjacent to the Pere Marquette and Detroit Terminal Railroad tracks gives ideal facilities for shipping and receipt of freight, says the Paige president. Here is now located the Jewett motor plant.

Pressed for information concerning the new plant, Mr. Jewett said that it would have two of the longest final assembly lines known to the automobile industry. He believes that they are the longest used in the production of any automobile selling at $1,000 or more.

"The market for Jewett cars appears to grow daily," said Mr. Jewett. "With nearly 10,000 cars on the road, every section of the country now has had an opportunity to view the extraordinary performing qualities of the Jewett."

"These Jewetts have been placed in the hands of their owners in slightly over one year's time, as production on this model was not on a quantity basis until late in March, 1922. The Jewett was first announced in January, 1922. Distribution has now been secured in every section of the country. We need not be told this by our distribution department either. The sales reports show it. Each Jewett sale has brought orders for many more from that territory."

NO EXCUSE FOR POLICE, NOW

Police of New York will have no chance to alibi themselves out of blame for losing the trail of an auto thief or other criminal. For the radio equipment on Motorcycles ought to keep them in constant touch with headquarters whence they get the latest information on the movements of their quarry.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT NOW

AKRON, O. — Tire manufacturers, too, have been concerned over the attainment of greater

To that end, they agree, one way in which they can help is by improving the construction of the tire. Their engineers have worked over this problem for years, until now they set forth the following conclusions:

plies and larger cross-section, thus affording greater air capacity.

1. More flexible tires, with fewer plies and larger cross-section, thus affording greater air capacity.

2. Tires to be run at lower air pressure, improving riding quality of the car.

3. Smaller wheel diameter, bringing the car closer to the ground and utilizing the motor's power to best advantage.

These are the points brought out recently by F. A. Seiberling, noted tire manufacturer of this city, in pointing out the trend of tire design from the earlier days.

LESS MATERIAL
In 1910, for instance, automobiles ran on 43x4-inch tires. Now cars of similar weight and construction use 33x3 tires.

"And in a few years," predicts Seiberling, "this size will be replaced by the 30x5, a rather striking illustration of the present-day trend toward smaller wheel and rim diameters."

"This development will not stop with smaller wheels, but will be extended to call for tires of larger cross-section, more flexible in carcass and carrying less air. The present 32x5 tire ultimately will be superseded by a 32x6 or even by a 34x7, but where the 32x5 is an eight-ply tire calling for 80 pounds inflation the 32x6 will be a six-ply tire with 40 pounds of air recommended and the 34x7 a four-ply tire with an inflation of 25 or 30 pounds."

"In the 4-inch tire size American makers have come from 40x4 to 32x4, which is already giving way to 31x4 with a probability that tires as small as 28x4 will appear for future standardization."

WHEELS SMALLER

So far as wheel sizes are concerned, remarks Seiberling: "It is safe to predict the early advent of the 20-inch rim as standard for both passenger cars and trucks. It remains only to be seen whether American engineers will be satisfied to stop with a 20-inch rim diameter

MAXWELL MAKES RECORD RUN

T. L. Cordray of the Hall Car Company, live-wire Maxwell-Chalmers dealer at Fairmont, W. Va., recently conducted one of the most interesting demonstrations of economy, stability and speed in high gear ever attempted.

The trip was made in a stock model good Maxwell with low and second gears entirely removed. The car was driven by Mr. Cordray and the run not only testifies to the merits of the good Maxwell, but to the driving ability of Mr. Cordray and his associates on the trip.

The itinerary included Fairmont, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus, Wheeling, and Fairmont. Mr. Cordray left Fairmont on Tuesday, May 1st, at noon. His schedule called for arrival in Pittsburgh at 3:45 a. m., a period of three hours and forty-four minutes over all kinds of roads between Fairmont and Pittsburgh. He arrived in Pittsburgh of time, almost to the second, with the car in the very best of running condition, and continued on to Cleveland.

Arriving in Cleveland at 8:30 a. m. he continued on to Columbus, which also was made in scheduled time and arrived there at 3:00 p. m. The next point of objective was Wheeling, W. Va. Mr. Cordray arrived in Wheeling about 8 p. m. with everything in the best of condition for his trip over the home stretch to Fairmont, which point was reached at 11:59 p. m., completing a total mileage of 630 miles in less than 24 hours.

Fifteen minute stops were made at Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus and Wheeling. Throughout the entire trip no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The car showed the most remarkable reliability under all kinds of road conditions.

Although the test was a very severe one with the low and intermediate speed removed, Mr. Cordray and his good Maxwell successfully concluded this interesting trip and came through with flying colors.

Why That Romantic Army Scandal Was Hushed Up

"Inside" Story of the Colonel's Grouch Against the Belle of Fort Sam Houston, the $100,000 Suit, the National Sensation---and the Sudden and Mysterious Silence

Some of Captain Randle's Men, Ready for a Hike, and All Fully Convinced that He was Right in the Conger-Randle Row.

Handsome Captain Edwin H. Randle, the Victim, He Said, of a "Scathing Attack" on Himself and His Wife, Delivered by Col. Conger.

Colonel Arthur L. Conger, Who Unconsciously Proposed the Riddle: "Can a Regimental Commander Make a Subaltern's Wife Behave?"

Below: View of a Texas Army Camp, Where Mrs. Randle's Suit Against Col. Conger Was Hotly Debated.

Why was the $100,000 damage suit of pretty Mrs. Agnes Karnes Randle against Colonel Arthur L. Conger, commander of the regiment in which her husband, Captain Edwin H. Randle, was an officer, suddenly withdrawn after Mrs. Randle's charges had been spread across the front pages of a continent?

Neither Mrs. Randle nor Captain Randle nor Colonel Conger would answer that question except to say: "Hush! hush!" But in San Antonio, in which the squabble started and from which "inside information" trickled even after the lid was clamped down, camp and town gossip think they know the reason.

It is simply this, say these wise ones—the colonel and the captain and the captain's wife believed they were having just a private spat, a sort of backyard and back-fence "peevish match," until all at once they found they were holding a tiger's tail instead of the parlor cat's. And when it looked as though the tiger might turn around and bite them—br-r-r—they quit!

Here is the situation as San Antonio sees it: Suppose you were a young and beautiful Indianapolis society girl who, like most young and beautiful society girls, had friviled and frolicked, with only kind and indulgent parents to say what you should do—

And suppose you married a young and handsome army officer, who had distinguished himself in the World War and was stationed at a camp in that delightful State of Texas, where all the girls had such wonderful times at Kelly Field during the war—

And suppose, after you got to Texas, you found that life at an army post in peace time was not nearly the round of gaiety you imagined, and that your nice young husband was bound to the beck and call of his superior officers, including a colonel of the stern old army school—

Suppose you gave a party or two just to jazz things up a bit. Suppose somebody who wasn't invited told the colonel a lot of terrible things about the noise of the regiment on parade, and that he ordered the other officers and their wives to ostracize the Randles and not even speak to them!

the colonel reprimanded him publicly. Suppose the colonel advised him: "Divorce her or resign!" Suppose the colonel sneered that your young husband's automobile was "just a piece of junk."

What would you do about it—sit back and hold your hands and your tongue? It's a free country, isn't it? And an army wife isn't an army officer, too? Or is she?

It is not definitely established that all these things happened at Fort Sam Houston, where the Twentieth United States Infantry is stationed, with Colonel Conger, veteran of General Pershing's Staff in France, in command, and with Captain Randle and his wife occupying quarters in Officers' Row. But here is what did happen:

Mrs. Randle, with her husband as co-plaintiff, in accordance with the Texas law, filed in the Bexar County Court, through her attorneys, a suit for $100,000 damages against Colonel Conger, alleging that the colonel had defamed her character. Mrs. Randle charged:

That she and her husband gave a party in their quarters, to which certain officers and their wives, NOT including Colonel Conger, were invited, and that the couple living next door, from whom the Randles were separated only by a thin partition, complained to the colonel about the "goings-on."

That the colonel ordered an inspector to investigate the complaint, and that the inspector found no evidences of intoxicants having been consumed at the party or of any other acts that could be construed as "rowdy."

That, nevertheless, the colonel summoned Captain Randle, that he advised him either to divorce his wife or resign from the army; that he did call the Randle automobile "a piece of junk;" that he publicly reprimanded Captain Randle, reading to the assembled officers, in the language of Captain Randle, "the most scathing attack directed at my wife and myself that I have ever heard;" that he made Captain Randle walk at the rear of the regiment on parade; and that he ordered the other officers and their wives to ostracize the Randles and not even speak to them!

Colonel Conger, replying to Mrs. Randle's suit, indignantly denied most of her assertions. He denied he "ever defamed Mrs. Randle." He denied he had "ever urged a divorce between her and Captain Randle." He denied that he had "ever imputed to her a want of propriety." He denied he had ever declared that he had ordered Captain Randle, as the result of the "party," to remain on the reservation for a period of one week, and had suggested to him it would be fitting for him to resign from the army.

The filing of Mrs. Randle's suit caused a nation-wide sensation. Not only was the affair most interesting in itself, but it brought up the general issue of how far the authority of colonels extends.

In clubs and in cantonments, around dining-tables and over mess-kits, at the breakfast-tables of civilians in the Bronx and beside the cots of buck privates in New York and Georgia and Alaska and Hawaii, the issue was debated in basso and soprano, with pounding fists and shaking fingers, with angry convictions on the part of all wives, and with hesitant, "Well, I don't know!" on the part of many husbands.

Every day added developments. Mrs. Randle's father, said the newspapers, was rushing from Indianapolis to San Antonio to throw the paternal cloak of protection about his daughter. Mrs. Randle's brother was speeding to Washington. He said he was going direct to the War Department, and if officials there were deaf to him he would appeal to the President through his friend and fellow club-member, Postmaster-General New. Secretary of War Weeks gave out a statement that he would order a complete investigation of the scandal. Colonel Lincoln P. Kilbourne, of the Inspector-General's Department, was placed in charge of the probe.

Partisan readers eagerly awaited each morning's news. Especially did they await the trial of Mrs. Randle's suit. And then—as suddenly as she had filed it—Mrs. Randle withdrew the action and telegraphed the Secretary of War, asking him to call off his investigation. The Randles wouldn't talk. The colonel wouldn't talk. Their friends wouldn't talk. Nobody would talk.

What had happened? Some said Colonel Conger had agreed to remove "demerits" against Captain Randle if Captain Randle would apologize. Others said the colonel had apologized, and Captain Randle had agreed to ask for a transfer to another post. But whatever the terms of the settlement, it came about, whispers San Antonio, because the temptress became the tornado, because the backyard "peevish match" turned into a national arena, because the parlor cat had changed into a tiger with threatening claws.

Moldavian Ikon of the Madonna, One of the Treasures of Sacred Art Exhumed by Mme. Jonnesco.

A PRETTY society woman turned archaeologist! A strange profession for the fair sex—and one in which you might think she wouldn't succeed very well. But the world is being treated to one surprise after another in the capabilities of woman since almost every profession has been thrown open to her.

The latest surprise is Madame Marie Jonnesco, lady of the Rumanian court, intimate friend of Queen Marie, leader in Parisian society and well known in America—which she has been visiting for the second time.

Her scientific researches, conducted among the ancient monasteries and convents of her native land, recently brought to light many beautiful relics of a hitherto more or less unknown period of early Christian art.

Among them are paintings and statues of strange Madonnas and Christs, half Oriental in their conception, of a type which you have perhaps never seen before.

The relics also include gorgeous jeweled censers, cups, crucifixes and objects of gold and silver made in the early Christian monasteries in the Middle Ages.

The story of how and why these things disappeared from human ken, and of how Madame Jonnesco helped unearth them and restore them to the art world of today, is as interesting as the beautiful objects themselves.

Rumania is the most eastern, or Oriental, of the European countries. It borders the Black Sea, which runs far into Asia Minor. It is a scant two hundred miles from Constantinople and only a hundred miles from the Turkish border. It was part of the Byzantine Empire, which was Christian, but which had its political and religious center in Constantinople (then called Byzantium). This branch of Christianity, now represented by the Greek Church, because of the Oriental influence under which it came, produced a kind of Christian art totally different from that which is familiar to western Christianity.

Many of its finest examples adorned the rich Rumanian monasteries in the early Middle Ages. Why did it disappear? Because Rumania was always at war, always being over-run by Turks or Bulgarians or other neighbors, who burned and looted. The monks and nuns had to bury their treasures in the ground, hide them behind solid masonry in the walls, adopt all sorts of expedients to keep them from being stolen.

Of course, some came to light from time to time, but the bulk remained unknown to the world at large until Madame Jonnesco began her interesting work. Magnificent sets of plates of the chief relics have been presented by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst to museums in New York, Boston and other cities, so that American artists may study them.

Even though you are not technically concerned with art, you will be interested in the reproductions on this page. You will notice that the Madonnas have unnaturally large eyes, extreme, almost wooden, regularity of features. The infant Christ, though tiny, looks like a little man rather than a real baby, with a small head in proportion to the body, instead of the large head of an infant.

This is because the Byzantine church believed it was wrong to use human models in making sacred pictures, or to imitate merely human figures. The priests feared exactly the thing which did happen later in Christian art. When the Italians and other European painters at the beginning of the Renaissance first started making religious pictures more human they did it at first devoutly, but they ended by submerging the purely religious in their desire to paint beautiful things, and presently, instead of trying to paint purely religious Madonnas, they began to paint, as Madonnas, portraits of wives, sweethearts and famous town beauties of Venice and Florence, some of whom were "no better than they should be."

They painted them with backgrounds of Italian villas, with greyhounds, falcons, jewelry, and all the appointments of luxury. The sacred paintings, though beautiful with the beauty which genius lent them, became also fleshly and worldly. Compared to them, these early Byzantine paintings, which at first seem formal and "wooden," are said to have a certain mystic and religious beauty of their own.

"When we speak of art and remember the past of Rumania," said Madame Jonnesco, "we must wonder by what miracle it has been possible to preserve even its few remaining fragments of historical value. In our country there has been perpetual warfare throughout

Rich Religious Art, Cunningly Concealed Behind Masonry of Monasteries Since the Middle Ages, at Last Exhumed by Queen Marie's Intimate Friend

Mme. Jonnesco's Researches Brought to Light Many Masterpieces, Including These Three of the Virgin.

Queen Marie, of Rumania, an Intimate Friend of Mme. Jonnesco, in the Horseback Costume She Wore When Visiting the Pretty Archaeologist During Her Excavations.

the centuries. In every period of its history people were turning from or issuing forth to battle. Hardly one among us can locate the tombs of his grandfathers, much less the places where works of art were hidden, sometimes from successive invaders, sometimes from our own 'robber barons.'

"Marvelous works of art were created in the early Rumanian monasteries and convents, but most of them disappeared for centuries, have been found either sealed up in tabernacles and secret places, hidden behind solid masonry in the walls, or actually buried deep underground.

"Now, gradually, these wonderful relics have been coming to light. There are missals, gospels, chalice, chiseled and enameled crucifixes, embroideries with softly blending tones and woven with gold and pearls, priestly vestments.

"There were also marvelous paintings of Madonnas and saints, done in a modified Byzantine style, of which there is no exact counterpart in any other part of the world. Many of the best were the handiwork of great French, Italian and Dutch artists of the time, who were stopping in Rumania on their way to or from Byzantium.

"A Rumanian monastery is a sort of Acropolis, a little religious city, surrounded by an immense wall. It contains the conventional church, the cemetery, the dwelling of the Father Superior, the travelers' quarters and the cells of the monks. These monks belong to the order of Saint Basil, and they are, therefore, known as Basilians. The order dates back to the year A. D. 357 and is the only one to be found between Moscow and Jerusalem.

"They wear voluminous robes of coarse black material, and low, cylindrical-shaped headgear, over which fall transparent veils, extending from shoulders to waist, encircling the faces with holes of sadness.

"The costume of the nuns is much the same, except that the veil covers a small flat head-dress, which envelops the chin and falls in sombre folds down the back. They live in small cabins resembling cells, which are absolutely plain, but always exquisitely clean. In summer, however, they are decorated with red geraniums which trail in garlands along the windows and corridors, lighting them up as though with little lamps.

"Each building has its own tiny garden. Birds sing; doves make their nests on the roofs. Other cabins, even more modest, are arranged along the length of each corridor."

Madame Jonnesco came to America for several months, not only in connection with her conferences on art, but also on an official mission for the King and Queen of Rumania.

some never to be found, some only in recent years to be restored to the world.

"There were periods when it was impossible to preserve openly any works of Christian art. One can still find the charred remains of sacred relics, walls demolished by the Turks and other invaders, images of saints whose eyes have been destroyed by sword thrusts.

"These and other treasures of the church could only be saved by being buried. The only relics of Byzantine art left to us

What Well Dressed Women Will Wear

SPORT CLOTHES ASSUME NEW IMPORTANCE

FOR a generation American women have been playing golf, for almost twice that length of time they have been playing tennis. In the latter sport, they have developed a way of dressing for the game that is almost entirely new. In the former, they have developed a way of dressing for the game that is almost entirely new. In the latter, they have developed a way of dressing for the game that is almost entirely new. In the former, they have developed a way of dressing for the game that is almost entirely new.

The 1923 Golf Cape. The golf cape is no longer a mere-thing of the past. But the 1923 model is a very different garment from the golf cape of 1900. The golf cape of today is more varied—there is only one sort. It was made of heavy reversible woolen material, with an authentic Scotch plaid on one side and dark gray, blue, brown, black—good "durable colors"—on the other. It had stitched bands fastened on the inside at the shoulders, and these crossed in front and went under the arms to button snugly at the waist in the back. The idea was, of course, that when you wore the cape on the golf course you let it Fragile Fabrics Worn. Our idea of what is practical for sports wear has changed enormously within the past few years. Once we would have scoffed at a white plaided robe de chambre for any sort of sport. We would have thought light yellow most inappropriate. A sleeveless blouse would have seemed all wrong. Only experience has taught us that drab neutral colors and obviously stout fabrics are not much more serviceable than the other sort, and that perfectly bare arms solve the sleeve problem and give enormous comfort in warm weather. The arms may become tanned, but what of that?

All sorts of knitted materials, both in wool and in silk, have been favorites for golf this season. Many women prefer the one-piece jersey frock to the separate skirt and over-blouse or jacket. For warm weather these one-piece frocks are made in sleeveless style or with very short sleeves. There is always a little jacket or cape to be worn when one has finished the game. Jackets of very bright color have been worn over frocks of white, sand or gray. For the bright jacket the French have shown a preference for yellow, rose and green.

drop off the shoulders to give the arms free play and if hung at the back by means of this strapping. And always there was a hood—made of the material from which the cape was fashioned, and showing the plaid lining. The hood, of course, was never used as a hood, but served to give added weight and warmth—usually to the increased discomfort of the wearer.

Hats Are Comfortable. The true sportswoman either wears no hat at all, or one that is light in weight and perfectly comfortable. The hat of suede or kid is undoubtedly smart and is well enough for cool resorts. There is, however, a new fabric that imitates, in almost perfectly the finish of suede, and sport hats of this material are of feather-weight. There are lots of white glazed and kid sport hats, trimmed with kid tassels or fringed. Quite often the crown is cut like sections of a melon, and these are lined up with silk laces or strips of the leather.

Leather On Coats. To be shod in leather and capped in leather is not always enough. The sportswoman usually owns a leather-trimmed coat besides. The latest version of the camel-hair coat is in a beige shade with collar and cuffs of brown suede, with design plating at each side of the skirt.

so that you may wear it either leather side out or leather side in, with red flannel showing. Gray corduroy knickerbockers are chosen by women who follow the fashion even when strolling, game.

The scarf is an accessory that some women spurn for sports wear. But it is still quite smart, and often adds a touch of distinction to an otherwise usual looking frock or suit. Often the only bright color in the whole arrangement is introduced by means of the scarf. A cherry-colored scarf fringed with blue gives zest enough to a gray knitted suit and gray and black hat.

Startling Plaids. Quite the most startling of all sports stockings are those showing vivid plaids. They are made of silk more often than of wool, and judging from the prominence they have received in the displays of the shops they will be fairly usual at our country clubs before the month is out.

The plaids we wear in sports clothes may be quite Scotch, but the fad for wearing them comes to us from France. Seemingly the French woman has not grown tired of them. Plaid materials are used for various sorts of small sports hats. And for summer days, when we will want to wear cotton and lincens, there are frocks of Indian cottons displaying very large and very loud plaids in the brightest hues. Quite new are large handkerchiefs on the bandana order printed with large Scotch or near Scotch plaids.

Black jersey is an excellent selection—not the close-fitting jersey suit that started by being a little shocking and ended by being very commonplace—but the jersey bathing suit cut on straight lines. Even laces have invaded the realm of bathing suits. So don't be surprised this summer if you encounter a seashore acquaintance of other years wearing a black bathing suit with an absurd little modesty piece of ruffles of narrow valenciennes. And perhaps there will be little frills of the lace showing beneath the short sleeves. Don't put this down as midsummer madness—it is already an accepted fashion.

Ribbons will not be outdone by laces, and there are bathing suits entirely of rows of ribbon. The large printed handkerchief has been taken over as an accessory for bathing costumes; but rest assured that by midsummer it will be almost as numerous as the sands of the sea. It will be swathed around the head over a rubber cap in every conceivable manner—gray, Turkish and pirate leading. But to achieve originality one must make other selection.

Black is now the uniform color for bathing suits. There are colored bathing suits—and more colored bathing suits. But if the color is not specified, take it for granted that the

SHORT SHAVINGS

Miss Rosemary Christen, Board of Commerce office employee, couldn't find her long glove after she visited a store, shopping.

She had the clerks looking all about for it.

"I'm glad I didn't locate it while they were looking," she says, "When I got back to the office I found I had the glove on all the time with the hand turned back and tucked up my sleeve."

Mrs. Ross Mullen, sympathizes with a woman who came down town on the same street car.

"She had to sit beside an extra fat man," says Mrs. Mullen. "There was only a little room for on the outer edge of the seat. But she got along all right until he sneezed, and then she suddenly found herself sitting down in the aisle."

Lynn B. Timmerman tells of his good luck when he was returning from a trip and boarded an interurban limited at Detroit.

Two blocks after he got on he gallantly gave his seat to a woman. She thanked him when she got off at Toledo. He was lucky, he thinks, that she wasn't going thru to Lima on the same car.

Jim Heffner became so interested in watching a hand swinging thru Main-st. that he forgot to hang on to his hat in the wind. It started on the street, and a young man chased it.

Jim's fear that someone would step on the hat was more than realized. Not only did the young man chasing the hat step on it, but so did another who stopped it.

Frank Grate, third track telegraph operator at the railroad station, no longer complains that nothing ever happens at Zaleski, Ohio.

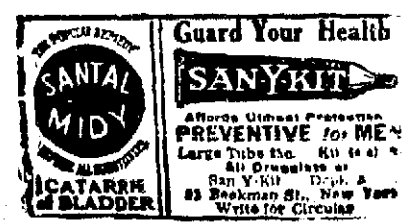

He was taking a message when a roll of newspapers thrown from a eastbound passenger train crashed thru the window where he sat. His first impression, he says, was that the whole train was coming thru the window into the depot.

Charles Stebbins of the Y. M. C. A. accepted a ride with a friend who boasted that his new automobile was like a top. "He was right about the top," says Stebbins. "It skidded on an icy spot at a corner, and went around and around."

Frank Moke, W. Market-st. saw a woman with a small boy trying to reach a corner in time to catch a car downtown. The small boy was in the lead, his mother being held back by right shoes. "She seemed to have no chance," says Moke, "until she took off her shoes and caught the car, holding her shoes with one hand and the small boy with the other hand."

Carey BUILT-UP ROOFING

The best roofing for modern conditions

CAREY built-up roofs can be "built up" layer on layer over any kind of roof deck. There is a specification to meet every kind of condition.

The roofing sheets contain and the hot mopping cement is made of the purest asphalt obtainable.

This is refined and tempered by special Carey processes which are the result of nearly fifty years of Carey experience in the manufacture of asphalt products and the practical application of roofs.

This careful refining, tempering and compounding explains why Carey roofings do not crack during the coldest winters nor soften and run in summer.

They afford the greatest resistance to fumes, water, acids, sparks, gas, ice, storms, cinders and sunlight. They are designed to outwear all ordinary roofs, and they do.
